U.S. Bombing Lull May Be Extended

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk met with newsmen today against a background of growing pessimism about chances the Communists would accept President Johnson's campaign for peace in Viet Nam. Rusk was ready to discuss at his news conference the increased sympathy and support the President's peace offensive has spurred in many nations he and other peace envoys have visited.

The conference was scheduled for 11:30 a.m. EST. Barring any last minute developments, however, the secretary had no indication of offers the Communists were ready to turn down the flames of war in Southeast Asia. He also was not expected to have any specific information as to just how fast time was running out for North Viet Nam.

Kremlin Calls Conference On Viet Nam War

LONDON (UPI) — Russia is proposing a summit meeting of party and government officials of Communist countries to discuss Viet Nam, diplomatic reports said today.

The reports said the Kremlin would use the meeting to reaffirm Communist support for the anti-U.S. effort in Viet Nam and to line up backers for its side in the Sino-Soviet feud.

Communist China has firmly rejected any such Communist summit whether on Viet Nam or the ideological split between the two Red giants. Albania, Peking's mouthpiece in eastern Europe, has denounced the idea as a veiled attempt to isolate the Red Chinese.

Moscow was understood, nevertheless, to be pursuing the idea through active diplomatic and party channels.

The Kremlin was believed to have sounded out the North Vietnamese on their possible acquiescence to—if not participation in—a Communist meeting on Viet Nam.

The attitude of Hanoi is considered crucial for the success of Moscow's summit effort. There was no immediate authoritative information as to Hanoi leader Ho Chi Minh's reaction so far.

Hanoi however, was believed to have taken a noncommittal stand in the recent talks with Soviet leaders for fear of inviting Peking's wrath. It was therefore unlikely that Hanoi would participate in the summit in the face of open Red Chinese hostility.

Sen. McCarthy Asks CIA Inquiry

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., wants the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to investigate the super-secret Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

Past attempts to investigate the CIA's activities have invariably run into administration opposition. A subcommittee made up of senior senators meets in secret to oversee CIA appropriations of several hundred million dollars each year.

Strikes With Teamsters At All-Time Low

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Teamsters' President James R. Hoffa said today strikes by his union were at an all-time low and could be reduced further except for "pathetic" lack of communication among labor leaders.

Hoffa told officials in his union, the nation's largest, to consult fully with their colleagues and his office before calling a "go it alone" walkout. He also reported a record-high teamsters' membership of 1,772,194 at the close of 1965 and said the total would be over 2 million by now if it were not for job losses attributed to automation.

The teamster chief, anxiously awaiting a U.S. Supreme Court ruling on his appeal from a federal jury-tampering conviction, stuck to bread-and-butter topics in his monthly message in the truckers union's magazine.

Hoffa said the low strike figures were "commendable" but added a warning: "The pathetic fact is, however, that all too often problems develop into strike situations when there is no need for it."

"No longer is it possible for local union to win a strike without help from other affiliates and the international union."

"The days of David and Goliath—local union whipping an industry giant—are over."

Calendar Set For Legislature

LANSING (UPI) — The Michigan House of Representatives Thursday adopted a session calendar calling for a wind-up of official business by June 2.

The calendar was adopted on a party-line vote after Republicans failed to tack on July 7 as the date for final adjournment.

The calendar, drafted by majority Democrats, calls for a recess beginning June 3 and extending indefinitely — thus technically keeping the Legislature in session for the remainder of the year.

The same strategy was used last year to prevent Gov. George Romney from calling a special session under the constitution. Romney could have dictated the subject matter if he recalled the Legislature.

But it has been rumored that as a counter-move, Republicans will withhold the necessary votes to give bills immediate effect, thus postponing effective dates of enacted legislation until 90 days after final adjournment is provided in the constitution. The session calendar will now go to the Senate for concurrence.

Professor Wins Travel Grant On His Turkey Roll

LANSING (UPI) — The Michigan State University professor who developed the turkey roll has been awarded a travel grant to attend the 13th World Poultry Congress at Kiev, Russia, in August.

MSU announced Thursday that Dr. L.E. Dawson, professor of food science, was awarded the $1,000 grant by the National Turkey Federation for outstanding research in turkey marketing and processing. He also was made an honorary life member of the federation.

The federation's awards committee termed the turkey roll "the greatest thing that has happened in the turkey industry in recent years." Dawson's contribution to a deboning process made it possible to roll turkey meat into compact balls with little or no waste, the committee said.

Congress Scans Plans To Boost War Firepower

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara provided Congress today with more details of President Johnson's $12.3 billion request for a "massive application of firepower" for the war in Viet Nam.

The Senate's top military expert said he thought Congress would approve "practically all of it."

Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., of the Senate Armed Services Committee and military appropriations subcommittee made the prediction. McNamara appeared before the two groups for his second day of testimony on the supplementary money bill.

Although he said he intended no such implication, McNamara's testimony Thursday left some senators with the idea time was running out in the pause in U.S. bombing attacks on North Viet Nam. The pause is now in its fifth week.

Some committee members did not draw the inference, but Russell made it clear that, in the absence of a reply to President Johnson's peace offensive, he felt the raids on North Viet Nam should be resumed when the Lunar New Year truce ends Sunday.

The senator said there would then be no alternative to pressing the war to a successful conclusion—a course he said might require forces comparable to the 400,000 to 500,000 men deployed during the Korean War.

There are now about 190,000 U.S. servicemen on duty in South Viet Nam with the total rising to 225,000 when sailors of the 7th Fleet offshore are included.

McNamara told the senators the requests for money to create a fourth Marine division, provide other manpower increases and to buy new aircraft and ammunition were necessary if the United States was to be ready to meet a possible stepup by the Communists in South Viet Nam.

"We hope for the best but we are preparing for the worst," was the way one official put it.

Peace Center Rites Staged In Jerusalem

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI) — The Harry S. Truman Center for the Advancement of Peace was formally proclaimed here Thursday night at a ceremony in President Zalman Shazar's official residence.

The ceremony was held simultaneously with one in Independence, Mo., Truman's home.

Shazar sent greetings to the former president, who Shazar recalled had written in his memoirs that, "One purpose that dominated me in everything I thought and did was to prevent a third world war."

Foreign Minister Abba Eban, at the ceremony here, listed four "decisive acts involving a difficult and courageous choice" which Truman took while in the White House. He said these were:

—A call for the entry of 100,000 Jews into Palestine from concentration camps following World War II.

—His support for the United Nations plan for a Jewish state.

—His action in immediately extending recognition to Israel.

—Joining in a proposal urging Israel's admission to the United Nations.

The center will include an auditorium, library, lecture halls and seminar rooms. It will be an integral part of Hebrew University.

Indian Cabinet Has 'New Look'

NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — Newly elected Prime Minister Mrs. Indira Gandhi is forming a cabinet that will have a "new look" and bring new blood into the Indian government, sources said today. She also plans to visit the United States soon.

While the major portfolios of home, external affairs, defense and finance are not expected to be changed, Mrs. Gandhi reportedly wants to bring in younger persons in other cabinet positions to cope with the crucial issues confronting India.

Thursday, Mrs. Gandhi accepted an invitation by President Johnson to visit the United States. She said no date had been set for the visit.

Mrs. Gandhi, India's first woman prime minister, declined to say exactly when she and her cabinet would be sworn in.

Earlier, officials had indicated the swearing-in ceremony would take place Monday, but since that is a Muslim religious day, another day was being set.

Mrs. Gandhi said, however, the cabinet would be sworn in before Republic Day on Jan. 26.

The 48-year-old widowed daughter of the late Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru was elected premier Wednesday as successor to the late Lal Bahadur Shastri.

Coalition Regime Flops In Italy

ROME (UPI) — Premier Aldo Moro's center-left government collapsed today when the coalition partners split over the question of setting up state nursery schools. Moro said he would offer his resignation.

Moro's decision followed a five-minute cabinet meeting. He was expected to go to the Quirinal Palace shortly to notify President Giuseppe Saragat of his decision.

There had been two earlier confidence votes in Parliament in little more than a week—and the Moro government had passed both with flying colors. But the break came last night on a Chamber of Deputies vote on the controversial bill to establish state nursery schools that was not supposed to have been a confidence ballot.

The Chamber of Deputies defeated the measure 250 to 221.

The vote reflected sharp dissension between the Christian Democrats and their Socialist allies in the coalition.

Only One Beatle Left Unmarried

EPSOM, England (UPI) — George Harrison became the third Beatle to get married today when he wed model Patti Boyd in secret ceremonies here.

Harrison, 22, and Miss Boyd, 21, met in March, 1964, when they both were making the hit movie "A Hard Day's Night."

Harrison is known as the "quiet" Beatle.

The wedding was a closely guarded secret shared only by relatives and very close friends. It was announced half an hour after the late morning ceremony at the Epsom Registry Office.

Brian Epstein, the Beatles' manager, was best man. Among those present were Patti's mother, Mrs. D. Gaymer-Jones, Harrison's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Harrison, and Paul McCartney, now the only unmarried Beatle.

Black Pajamas Red Garb For Night Attack

SAIGON (UPI) — A force of 400 Communist Viet Cong clad in black pajamas and wearing straw hats attacked a South Korean marine platoon early today in violation of the cease-fire. The Koreans counterattacked in two hours of hand-to-hand combat that killed 46 Communists.

The attack on the South Koreans and scattered clashes involving Americans and other allies indicated the Viet Cong had no intention of including them in their lunar New Year cease-fire. Their ambiguous announcements of a truce had referred only to the South Vietnamese.

Sneak In Darkness

The South Koreans, members of the Blue Dragon unit of the Korean marine brigade, were under orders not to hunt for the Viet Cong and not to fire unless fired upon until the expiration of the truce on Sunday. They had pulled into defensive positions at their camp near Tuy Hoa, 240 miles northeast of Saigon.

The Communists sneaked up around 1:40 a.m. under cover of darkness and heavy rains and opened up with a barrage of grenades. As they charged to within 50 feet of the camp the Viet Cong raked the Korean positions with small arms and mortar fire.

In the confusion the Koreans first reported the Viet Cong had used civilians as human shields because of their dress and because other Viet Cong wearing khaki fatigues followed them into action.

Americans Assailed

Wave after wave of Viet Cong poured into the outpost and soon overran the Korean positions. But the Koreans reorganized and counterattacked.

Throughout the day a number of new attacks were reported against American troops, most of them minor.

It was reported that the Viet Cong started at least 49 "incidents" since the truce period began. A military spokesman said 34 of these were against American troops or their non-Vietnamese allies and that the rest were directed against Vietnamese forces, outposts, villages and hamlets.

The spokesman said the Koreans had been conducting a military operation in the area but had suspended it for the duration of the truce and had pulled into a defensive perimeter.

He said a large Communist force, herding villagers from the vicinity in front of them, advanced on an outpost manned by a platoon of Marines.

The South Koreans withheld their fire until the Communist troops were within 100 feet.

Then a bitter battle erupted with the use of small arms and hand grenades by both sides, the spokesman said.

He said the fighting was too close to bring in air support.

The spokesman said the South Koreans were reinforced almost immediately and that the opposing sides engaged in hand-to-hand combat for two hours.

When the fighting was over, the South Koreans counted the bodies of 46 Viet Cong on the battlefield, the spokesman said.

There was no report on how the civilians fared. The spokesman said South Koreans casualties in the engagement between the Viet Cong and American troops also marred the second day of the Lunar New Year truce.

An American spokesman said U.S. forces suffered "light" casualties in several skirmishes throughout South Viet Nam, but

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — Burglary suspect William A. Jenkins, 19, of suburban Bonita, posed a unique problem Thursday for police, he has 12 fingers.

Police fingerprint cards have 10 squares for 10 fingerprints. Officers solved the dilemma by stapling two small pieces of paper to the fingerprint card.

Union Pacific Plan Fought

C&amp;NW Wants Rock Island

The Chicago & North Western Railway Co. is carrying its opposition to the proposed merger of Union Pacific and the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroads to the public.

Beginning this week, North Western representatives will appeal to shippers and community leaders throughout the Midwest to join in opposing a Union Pacific invasion of the Midwest by a take over of Rock Island. At the same time, they will seek to enlist community and shipper support for North Western's proposal to create a strong, efficient regional railroad system through a North Western-Rock Island merger.

The North Western says its effort has two main goals: "To illustrate the economic wreckage that would result throughout most of America's heartland—from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico—if Union Pacific's plans succeed; and to show how the North Western's proposal to build a regional system by combining historically marginal railroads into a strong, efficient system able to improve service in this vital industrial and agricultural region, is in the public interest."

In a 27-page detailed analysis of the competing Rock Island merger plans, North Western Chairman Ben W. Heinemann states that, "While some mergers are constructive, others can be destructive. We are convinced that a Union Pacific-Rock Island merger would be a loaded gun aimed at the heartland of America." Heinemann said the North Western's proposal, on the other hand, "Is the best means for developing a strong regional transportation system that will contribute to the growth of the midwestern economy."

North Western has been joined by a number of other railroads in the region who similarly fear Union Pacific's Rock Island control designs and are actively campaigning to block the proposal.

The North Western said the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific plan to invade important midwestern traffic centers would result in severe damage to the existing, historically marginal carriers and the regions they serve.

The North Western's booklet states that Union Pacific, to justify its plans to take over Rock Island, has persistently claimed it desires to more effectively compete with truck lines and other transcontinental railroads by having its own through route from Omaha to Chicago. The North Western stated, however, that the Union Pacific's own traffic study, made by James MacAnally, vice president-traffic, revealed Union Pacific's true purpose.

That study, made public only after being subpoenaed in connection with a proxy contest over its original Rock Island merger offer, estimated that by merging with Rock Island, Union Pacific could divert $229 million in annual freight traffic revenues from other railroads. There was no mention about diverting traffic from truck lines in that study.

The booklet details how this traffic diversion would impair the ability of the existing midwestern lines to continue rendering service throughout the entire region. One main result: It would deprive carriers like North Western of the opportunity to share in transcontinental traffic on the Omaha-Chicago run, one of the few longer (and more profitable) hauls for these lines.

The North Western states there's a way of not only avoiding the economic havoc that would flow from a Union Pacific-Rock Island merger, but also of strengthening the presently marginal railroads already serving the region—by combining North Western and Rock Island to form a stronger, more efficient midwestern system.

Calf Is Prize In Essay Test

The Chatham Lion's Club promoting development of dairymen and 4-H club work in Alger County, plans an essay contest in the Eben Grade School with award of a purebred Holstein calf — progeny of a first-calf heifer which was awarded as a similar prize to Della Maki, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Maki, Eben Junction, in December, 1963.

Members of the Agricultural Committee of the Chatham Lion's Club, Urho Pokela, Walter Maki and Jerry Aho, working with Al Ikela, Rock River Township School superintendent, and John P. Campana, Alger County Extension Agent, have organized the essay contest.

Council Backs School Issues

The City Council Thursday unanimously urged "strong support" of the millage and bond issue proposals scheduled for public vote Feb. 1 in the Escanaba Area school district.

Action was taken by resolution at a regular meeting at the City Hall.

"In the interest of the entire community, it is the considered opinion of the Escanaba City Council that the coming school millage election, Tuesday, Feb. 1, should be strongly supported," the resolution said.

"With the advent of new and expanding business and industry in our community, it is vital that our school system be strong and capable. We as a Council unanimously endorse both requests of the Escanaba Area School Board."

The Board of Education has requested 3.0 mills for operating expenses to replace a 3.8 mill tax which expired with the 1965 tax bills and also approval of a $1.45 million bond issue for elementary school construction.

The bond issue is expected to have an effective tax rate of 1.8 mills.

If the bond issue is approved, the Board proposes to build a new Franklin School, a southside school, a new Washington School, and additions to the Soo Hill, Wells and Lemmer Schools. A heating plant for the junior high school and Washington schools would also be constructed.

Ironwood Wins Ashland Traffic In Air Service

Officials and residents of three Wisconsin communities expressed "deep disappointment" this week over the United States Circuit Court of Appeals decision allowing North Central Airlines to end service at their airports.

The three communities are Appleton, Ashland and Clintonville.

The court in Chicago upheld a Civil Aeronautics Board ruling that North Central should use regional airports located at Oshkosh and Green Bay, Wis., and Ironwood, Mich.

The court said it was acting on the CAB's principle of "use it or lose it," which the court said was proper.

The CAB decision followed a series of hearings at Wausau on its proposal that regional service should be consolidated at Green Bay and Oshkosh and at Ironwood and on consolidating Wausau, Marshfield, Stevens Point and Wisconsin Rapids service at a new airport near Mosinee.

Dairy Farmers Dip In December

Milk production in the Upper Peninsula showed a substantial decline in December as compared with the figures for a year previous, the U.S. Department of Agriculture, administering the U.P. Milk Marketing Order, reports.

The price of milk was the only bright spot in an otherwise declining situation. The blend (average) price per hundredweight was $4.22, compared with $4.33 in November and

Age Of Change Bethany Theme Of Annual Meet

Bethany Lutheran Church reviewed activities for 1965 at its annual meeting Jan. 19, with Pastor and President, Walfred E. Nelson reporting that Bethany members are in an age of change.

"Basic human struggles do not change however as each man still struggles with his self love versus his need to be born spiritually anew each day," said Dr. Nelson. "We have seemingly come into inflated prosperity, but prosperity breeds overconfidence in the power and ingenuity of man."

"While man has marched forward in many fronts he has lagged in the fine art of living. Life goes down, whatever the physical conditions may be, unless there is a relevant faith held by a sufficient number of the best minds and not just any faith will suffice." The pastor challenged the members that as Christ embodied the answer in the first century, so they in His name must embody the answer to our world in this century.

It was reported that educational scholarships from the Helen O. and Raymond Miller estate were given to five young men from Bethany in various areas of vocation. Recipients were: Kenton Anderson, education; Richard Anderson, social service; Eric Austad, medical; Harry E. Nelson, engineering; and Richard W. Waak, physics.

The total baptized membership stands at 1,270. The church school revealed a decrease of 25 over the previous year. Total receipts, which did not include organizations, were $75,645. The present assets are $429,600.

Elected to the Church Council for a term of three years were: Mrs. A. V. Aronson, Mrs. Marcel Ashland, Ivan Dahlquist, Richard L. Hanson and Walter Lewke. For a one year term: Miss Marie Jacobsen and Ernest Vanlerbergh. Elected to the 1967 nominating committee are: Carl Engstrom, Anton Holmes, Roy Lee, Miss Hilda Olson and Miss Esther Palmer. Pastor Nelson was elected the president of the congregation and Church Council; Mr. Arthur Neiman, Vice Chairman, and Richard L. Hanson as secretary of the congregation and Council.

School Vote Q &amp; A

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Daily Press is running a question and answer column on the school election set Feb. 1. Answers will be prepared by members of the Board of Education or the school administration. Questions, in writing, may be sent to the Daily Press or Luther M. Barrett, Sup. of schools.

Q — What is the cost of each unit within the proposed program, without financing—basic costs only? (Submitted by Education Committee, Harnischfeger UAW Local 632).

A — The estimated costs of each unit, including cost of structure, site work, furnishings and equipment, architects fees of 6%, etc., are as follows: Franklin School . . . $317,200 South Side School . . . $305,200 Washington School . . . $330,900 Soo Hill Addition . . . $128,950 Wells Addition . . . $91,600 John Lemmer Add. . . $163,862 Junior High Heating Plant . . . $72,500 This is a total of $1,408,212, based on the architect's estimate of $15.00 per square foot. The additional amount needed, making the final total $1,450,000, is required for interest before the first tax is collected on the new levy.

Q — Will the same architectural plans be used for all buildings the same size and serving the same purpose? Would this have any bearing on the architectural fees? (Education Committee, UAW Local No. 632)

A — Yes, the same plans are being used for the Franklin and the South Side buildings. This is resulting in a savings of 50% in the architectural fees for the second building.

he declined to give details because the patrols were connected with military operations under way when the temporary cease-fire went into effect.

Other Violations At least four violations involving Communist and South Vietnamese troops also were reported.

The cease fire announced by the Communists started at midnight Wednesday to last four days.

The government truce, in which American forces have concurred, is scheduled to end at 5 a.m., EST Sunday. The Viet Cong cease fire announcement said guerrillas would stop fighting Vietnamese, Australian, New Zealand and South Korean forces during the New Year holiday. But it made no reference to Americans.

The American spokesman withheld information on the exact location of the clashes because of security regulations. But one of the worst cease fire violations involving South Vietnamese forces was reported early today in the Rung Sat area southeast of Saigon.

A government spokesman said a Viet Cong force attacked the village about Thursday night, and looted and pillaged for an hour before withdrawing. The number of casualties was not immediately known.

Soil Resources Study Accepted By City Council

The soil that underlines the City of Escanaba, the foundation upon which is built homes and industries and other uses, is the subject of a basic study received by the City Council at its meeting Thursday night.

"The Soil Resources Inventory" becomes a part of that program in preparation for development the Council has been pursuing for the past year or more. It was made by the U. S. D. A. Soil Conservation Service in cooperation with the Delta County Soil Conservation District.

Presenting the report to the Council, with an explanation of its applications, were Irwin Ten Haken, Soil Conservation Service, and Loren W. Berndt, soil scientist.

"Escanaba is the No. 1 city in the Upper Peninsula with such an inventory," Ten Haken told the Council. He commended the Council for its foresight and described the survey as "a reference instrument basic to planning."

Part Of Planning

Berndt, who made the soil borings to a depth of 60 inches in preparation of the inventory said the report "describes the soil resources in Escanaba and gives the degree and kind of limitations of each soil for five broad uses." They are: Residential, Industrial, Recreation, Forestry, and Agriculture.

The soil resources inventory becomes a part of the city's increasing material related to planning for development of the community.

The Council was recently assured that federal funds are available to assist in financing a planning program including a community-wide comprehensive plan, and a downtown business district plan. The latter is to be given priority.

Promotion Partners

The Council also discussed and approved a proposal to invite the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce to suggest "ideas" on a joint City-Chamber of Commerce industrial development committee and promotion.

There is the need for an industrial development committee with members from both the City and the Chamber of Commerce, said Mayor George Rusch. "It should be a joint venture of both and would bring both closer together," he said.

Through a joint effort "we can make things materialize much faster," the mayor added.

Councilman Harold Vanlerberghe said the City and the Chamber "should be partners in promotion" including the continuing work of the Escanaba Foundation, which was established about 25 years ago.

In other business the City Council:

Approved subject to sanction of the city manager a low bid of Coyne Chevrolet to supply the city with a van type truck for $1,833.

Adopted a resolution asking the return to the community of a percentage of the Federal Income Tax paid from that community. "For every dollar we get back we pay in about $1.33," said Councilman Vanlerberghe.

Long Range Look

Heard a request from Fireman Eugene Merrill for compensatory time off in addition to time and a half paid him for being called back to work the day after Thanksgiving Day, which is a city holiday. The Council took the request under advisement.

Discussed the Planning Commission and its functions. The hiring (with federal financing) of Harland Bartholomew and Associates to make a planning study for the city was described as supplemental to the work of the local Planning body, and would provide an objective and valuable long-range look at the city's needs.

Heard Councilman Harold Vanlerberghe suggest that the city assure the Delta County Historical Society of "every cooperation in its fine undertaking" to determine historical sites and mark them suitably.

"We want the Society to know it can expect the full support of the city in this effort," said Mayor Rusch.

Daniel Defore, author of "Robinson Crusoe," wrote over 400 books and papers.

TV Ads Bad For Mexicans

CHICAGO (UPI)—American television programs now being shown in Mexico are a threat to that country's culture and stability, a Mexican communications authority believes.

Alberto Ortega, director of the national center of mass communications media of Mexico, said U.S. television shows products beyond the economic reach of most Mexicans and causes unrest. He said this was "frustrating and is causing great anguish among the poor people."

Ortega, here for the third annual Catholic Inter-American Cooperation program, said Thursday the image of the United States has been damaged badly "by the influx of TV and advertising."

An estimated 70 per cent of Mexico's television is imported from the United States, Ortega said.

Ortega figures the problem will get worse once television westerns reach the rural areas. He believes once this happens the rural people "may start solving their problems with their guns."

Among the products he listed as economically beyond the reach of many Mexicans were soap, whiskey, automobiles, cigarettes and washing machines.

Donations Bring Eyesight Back For Father Of 6

DETROIT (UPI)—A 41-year-old father of six has been assured by surgeons he will have normal vision soon because $2,000 contributed by some 500 persons who heard of his plight, made possible a necessary operation.

Roy Holbrook was operated on Thursday in a Boston hospital after friends and relatives raised the money for the trip east and the medical expenses.

A truck driver for 14 years, Holbrook began going blind recently and lost his job. After two operations here failed to help, doctors warned him he would become blind unless surgery was performed by a Boston specialist, Dr. Charles Schepens.

William Cunningham, a neighbor who started the fund to help the stricken man, said hundreds of encouraging notes and letters are awaiting Holbrook on his return.

Vietnam Gifts Stalled In Utah

WASHINGTON (UPI)—American Christmas gifts to the Vietnamese people, now stalled in a Utah supply depot, will be shipped to their destination by the government "at the first opportunity," the chairman of the gift project assured.

Russ Walton of the American Christmas Train and Truck campaign said millions of dollars of gifts were detained to Utah because military shipments to Viet Nam took first priority.

Students Trim Long-Hair Boy

FORT WORTH (UPI)—The 13-year-old student at Forest Oak Junior High School had long hair—not quite as long as is the vogue among some teenagers, but long nonetheless. And at least 10 of his schoolmates did not like it.

In fact, they grabbed him and cut it off.

They were suspended Thursday and will be able to get back in school only when their parents talk things over with their principal, Leon Lewis.

Invite Parents To Meeting On Special Education

Parents of children in the special education program in the Escanaba Area Public Schools and other interested persons are invited to a meeting at the John A. Lemmer School at 7:30 p. m. Monday, Jan. 24.

"What will become of my child when he leaves school?" will be the theme of the meeting and the speaker will be Charles Trebilcock of the Michigan Department of Rehabilitation.

Parents will be encouraged to ask questions, said Clarence Moore, physical therapist for the Escanaba Area Schools, in announcing the meeting.

Luther M. Barrett, school superintendent, will briefly discuss the building proposal and bond issue to come before the voters on Feb. 1. Questions will be invited.

There Will Be No Railroad Strike, Says Negotiator

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The chief negotiator for the nation's railroads today discounted a threatened nationwide railroad strike by the firemen's union as so much "storm and fury."

"Despite all the threats of the firemen's union, there will be no national railroad strike," said J. E. Wolfe, chairman of the National Railway Labor Conference and the industry's head negotiator. "The public interest will not permit interruption of America's railroad service."

Wolfe's comments, prepared for delivery at the weekly noon luncheon of the Commonwealth Club of California, were made in response to a threat by H. E. Gilbert, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

Gilbert told a news conference in Washington, D.C., Tuesday that the firemen would be free to stage a coast-to-coast strike if agreement is not reached by March 31 to restore firemen's jobs on freight and yard locomotives.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Carlson of Appleton, Wis., and Mrs. Ann McAnn of Waukegan, Ill., were accidentally omitted from the list of out of town persons attending the funeral of Pat McDonough.

Gardner Prods Action In HEW

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary John W. Gardner is using a new young team of assistants and tighter purse-string control to whip the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) into shape to achieve Great Society goals.

His impact has been felt throughout what cynics long have called a "collection of warring agencies" that make up a cabinet department spending $9 billion a year.

The new HEW secretary, who took over last August, is pressing a major reorganization of the Public Health Service

(PHS) and the Food and Drug Administration (FDA)—two of the most rapidly growing subdivisions of his agency.

Gardner also wants the Office of Education and the Social Security Administration to get into high gear to administer the sweeping school aid and Medicare measures passed by Congress last year.

At his premier news conference Thursday, Gardner demonstrated that he is more interested in carrying out new legislation than getting more bills passed this year.

"For most of these new programs we're still tooling up to do the job," he said. "It gives me the shakes to hear you talk about additional new programs."

Halcli, Heirman Address Citizens

Al Halcli of UPCAP spoke to the Senior Citizens Committee of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce Tuesday on the functions of UPCAP in economic development.

Joseph Heirman, MSU Extension director in Delta County spoke on Human Resources and stated that there is a shortage of semi-skilled labor in the Upper Peninsula and that a real opportunity exists for individuals who desire to be trained. Heirman said some of the big gains of employment have been made by training programs at Michigan Tech and Northern Michigan University.

The town of Erie, Pa., was laid out in 1795.

Winter Again

The Escanaba Daily Press contributed a picture of an ice-whiskered Great Lakes oil tanker docked in Little Bay de Noc to the Associated Press' wirephoto network recently. The Jan. 17th movement of petroleum products was the latest in history for the Port of Escanaba, which aspires to growth as an all-year harbor.

Since AP serviced the picture of the icy tanker the Press has received copies of papers from all over the nation which published the picture. The Miami Herald noted that the tanker was the Polaris and that seemed to square with its idea of where Escanaba is. Strictly North Pole, man. It made everyone in Miami feel good, apparently, to be reminded by the Polaris that Florida's warmth doesn't reach to Canada.

Lost was the significance of the picture: That while Michigan's Winter Water Wonderland is now in snow bloom the tankers still are running to its northernmost ports, conquering climate and Water Winterland.

Much harder to conquer than winter is the impression that winter in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan is Squaresville and real North Pole. The Milwaukee Journal published recently a report from Earl Gagnon's editorial snow machine in Houghton that "the 100th inch of snow fell in the Copper Country last Sunday."

The article hastened on to explain "However, the snowfall this winter is well behind last season, when on this date this area had 150.6 inches of snow."

Getting over that disappointment, it concluded: "Last winter's snowfall set a record of 294.5 inches."

Since very few Milwaukeeans visit Houghton to check on the snow gauges in January, these statistics stand misunderstood. There's a rather general impression, apparently, that the snow is standing to the depth mentioned. Actually, of course, this is the total snowfall, not total snow depth. The snow doesn't stay, it melts and packs and diminishes.

At the end of the winter this process reduces the snow cover from the 24.5 feet of fall to perhaps only 12 feet of snow, which Houghton can handle with no great difficulty, except for the tendency to plug low chimneys.

But away from the Copper Country the impression seems to prevail that once snow falls on Houghton, it stays there until the big melt on the Fourth of July. A national TV newscaster helped this idea along this week with report that Houghton had 100 inches of snow on the ground. Even in Houghton this figures out to more than 8 feet and a man who slipped on his back stoop might not be found again until spring if snow had the staying qualities of visiting relatives.

So it's Welcome to Winter again and while we're conquering the season and enlarging its usefulness we're not making much headway against the myth that we still sew our children into their long underwear on Labor Day.

Delta Society Meet Proves

Historians Like Humor, Too

By JEAN WORTH
The historians have a cult of weepers who wish that someone had set down the light talk tossed about like hot biscuits when the literary greats of the time were launched at the Cheshire Cheese in London.

Samuel Johnson, who wrote the first comprehensive dictionary in the English language, dominated the talk—dominated any talk that he was in, no matter who the other talkers.

And while Lawyer James Boswell has left us one of the most complete pictures of a man in his books on Johnson, much of the banter blew away with the winds.

The historians know what Lincoln said at Gettysburg and Pericles at Athens, but what were the side remarks that put the proceedings into focus and set the play in social time?

In other campaigns, says People's Army, when Red mainline troops go into battle, guerrilla units are charged with blocking or ambushing enemy relief and supply columns.

The object, of course, is to isolate the forward enemy force so it can be chewed up for lack of reserves and supplies, except those brought in by air.

Over several years, People's Army says, VC guerrillas have one by one, secured control of strategic points along major highways and byroads in South Viet Nam.

This has been done according to a schedule. First objectives were "major highways numbered 1, 8, 13, 14."

The VC guerrillas have specialized in putting themselves in positions along these roads from which they can readily block major junctions. Their attack positions are prepared months in advance.

When mainline forces attack, therefore, the guerrilla troops are already positioned to quickly hit relief and supply columns.

In co-ordination with the mainline attack, guerrillas are charged with blasting or mining bridges leading to the battle zone.

In some battles, the guerrillas are expected to move into the fight first, attacking from all sides. "With guerrilla forces hitting from all directions," says People's Army, "the enemy is confused and does not know from which way the main attack may come."

The mainline forces are to hold back until the guerrillas expose a weak spot, then move in for the kill.

At times, guerrilla units are ordered to add to the confusion by "beating drums and empty cans and by shouting and ringing bells . . . shaking up the whole area and creating confusion for the enemy."

If the Viet Cong lose the battle, guerrilla forces are assigned to harassing the enemy. By slowing down the mopping-up operations, they enable mainline forces to escape.

The guerrillas, it is quite obvious, are considered expendable.

The Doctor Ann Landers Says:

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

Having already looked at the causes and results of the chronic anxiety state the question arises: What can be done about it? The solution is not easy but the situation is not hopeless.

It is of prime importance to break the chain of cause and effect. Since the roots of the trouble are usually in the family, a reputable family counseling agency can often help. The goals are mutual affection, trust and moral support. Each member of the family must be respected as an individual and allowed to develop his own independent personality.

We must train ourselves not only to avoid stewing over things that are beyond our control but also to face up to situations that appear to be threatening and finding a solution rather than trying to sweep them under the carpet.

If, while suffering from anxiety, you can learn to deal with your problem you will not only feel better but you will have reached a new level of maturity. Often, if you can get the sympathetic ear of a friend, doctor or clergyman and talk about your problem, you will arrive at a solution more through his moral support than through any specific advice.

If all else fails a course of tranquilizers may be just what you need. The important point to remember is that the smallest doses, taken for the shortest time required to improve your mental outlook, will be the best for you in the long run. Don't make these drugs a permanent crutch. Which drugs to use should be left to your doctor to decide.

Q—I have been taking Coumadin for 10 years. Every two weeks I go to my doctor for a prothrombin test. Is there any way a person can tell the condition of his blood without this test?

A—Anyone who is taking an anticoagulant must have a checkup at least twice a month to make sure the clotting power of the blood does not fall to a dangerous level. There is no other way to be sure.

Q—Ever since my 22-year-old son had encephalitis four years ago he has had recurring bouts of hiccups. Are these the result of his encephalitis? Can anything be done to get rid of them?

A—Encephalitis sometimes leaves a focus of irritation in the brain and results in attacks of hiccups. Treatment with various sedatives has been tried but without notable success. When simpler methods fail electric stimulation of the phrenic nerve may be tried.

The poorwill, which dwells in western North America, is the only known hibernating bird.

Mother Kooky, Teener Claims

Dear Ann Landers: I'll bet wife. The marriage lasted 13 years. I left her and our three children to chase around Two years later I married a woman who was eight years my junior. We stayed married until 1960 when she was killed in an accident.

Several months ago I started to go with my first wife again. She remained single and has done a fine job of raising the children. I find her more attractive now than when we first met more than half a century ago. We have both learned a lot and I am sure we could find happiness together in the years left to us. We want your answer so we can celebrate our golden wedding anniversary next year. What do you say? — SECOND TIME AROUND

Dear Second: If you two want to remarry, go ahead. According to my calculations, however, you will not soon be candidates for a golden wedding celebration. You are shy about 36 years of living together, my friend.

"The Bride's Guide," Ann Landers' booklet, gives authoritative and complete information on how to plan a wedding. To receive your copy of this comprehensive guide, write to Ann Landers, in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35c in coin.

Dear Ann Landers: I need an answer because my husband and I are in sharp disagreement.

Bart and I were reared in families where grace was said every night before dinner. We have continued this custom in our home.

Often we give dinner parties for 10 or 12 people. Some of our friends are of our faith. Others belong to a different faith. Still others have no religious beliefs at all.

Should we say our grace when we entertain? Should we select a more universal prayer? Should we pray in our own way before the guests arrive? Or should we skip the prayer altogether when we have company? — MRS. Q

Dear Mrs. Q: Since grace is a part of your daily lives I see no reason to skip the prayer or to say it before the guests arrive.

The best solution would be for you and your husband to bow your heads and say a silent prayer. Those who want to join you will do so. In this way each one can pray in his own way—or not at all if that is his choice.

Bowden Heading Economic Team

SAIPAN, Mariana Islands, Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands (Jan. 17)—High Commissioner M. W. Goding announced this week that the Robert R. Nathan Associates' economic development team for the trust territory has a new chief. Dr. E. V. Bowden, an economic development economist, arrived on Saipan with his wife, Doris, and their five children, on Jan. 10.

Dr. Bowden replaces Ivan Bloch, former team chief who recently resigned because of ill health.

Dr. Bowden's education and intensive experience in economic development work make him extremely well suited to the requirements of his new office, said Goding. He holds the bachelor's degree with high distinction in economics from the University of Connecticut, and master's and Ph.D. degrees in economics from Duke University.

He has done study, teaching, and writing in all the major fields of economics, and has taught at Duke University, Elmira College in New York, and at Old Dominion College in Virginia. He served as chairman of the Department of Economics at the College of William and Mary in Norfolk, Va., for four years.

In 1962 and 1963, Dr. Bowden headed a five-man team of economic specialists in working out an economic development plan for the Eastern-shore of Virginia, and for the past 18 months he has been executive director of the Upper Peninsula Committee for Area Progress (UPCAP), an organization working for the development of economic and human resources in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan.

In this latter position, Dr. Bowden directed a team of 14 professional, secretarial, and clerical employees in a broad variety of economic development planning and implementation activities. Under Dr. Bowden's directorship UPCAP received national recognition, and was cited by President Lyndon Johnson in his economic development message to the U. S. Congress on March 25, 1965.

Dr. Bowden has worked closely with the Robert R. Nathan Associates over the past several years, both in their role of technical assistance to UPCAP, and in other capacities.

The economic development team, consisting of James Leonard, economist, Raymond Carpenter, agricultural economist, Mrs. Jane Aaring, secretary, and now Dr. Bowden, will continue under its new leadership to advise and assist the High Commissioner and other officials of the Trust Territory Government in economic matters, and will continue to work on a design for a realistic economic development and implementation plan for the Trust Territory.

Auto Safety Checks Advised

LANSING (UPI)—Col. Frederick E. Davids, director of State Police, has recommended new legislation to prohibit used car sales by junk dealers and to permit spot vehicle checks by police.

Appearing before the Senate Highway Committee Wednesday, Davids said mobile auto safety check units would permit police to make unannounced vehicle inspections and checks on operator's licenses. Special lanes would be established along highways for this purpose, he said.

Davids said a ban on car sales by junk dealers would keep autos, originally sold for junk, from being put back onto the highways by someone looking for a $35 transportation bargain.

Davids was one of the first witnesses to be called after the committee announced plans to develop a sweeping new highway traffic safety program. The fate of several bills, including compulsory motor vehicle inspection, may rest on the outcome of the study.

Coin Business Fraud Revealed

HARRISBURG (UPI)—The trial of two Lewiston men charged with mail fraud in the operation of a coin business was continuing today in U. S. Middle District Court here.

More than 20 coin collectors from nine states, including Michigan, testified Wednesday they sent almost $1,200 in coins through general delivery at the Dauphin Post Office believing they would be paid more than the market value of the coins.

The prosecution charged that John M. Barner represented himself as a "John W. Zook" in placing an advertisement in Coin World, a coin collectors' publication, and in signing registered mail receipts at the post office.

The U. S. attorney's office charged that Robert W. Bailor was Barner's partner and that the pair failed to reimburse those who sent in coins in response to the advertisement.

Collectors testified they sent coins ranging in value from $9.75 to $11.75. Those testifying were from the states of Washington, Florida, California, Michigan, Maine, Minnesota, North Carolina, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Draft Confuses Job-Hunters

EAST LANSING (UPI) — The military draft has created an air of uncertainty among job-hunting seniors, according to placement director John Shingleton of Michigan State University.

Even though the 1966 job market offers the highest starting salaries in history, Shingleton said many students consider it might be better to fill military commitments or, in some cases, go on to graduate school.

The situation is reflected in a reduction of campus job interviews from 3,845 in 1964 to 3,374 last fall, even though the number of employers on campus increased by 13 per cent and starting salaries in all fields were up four to five per cent, he said.

"There will not be enough graduates in many categories" to meet job openings, Shingleton said. "Most of the large employers' recruitment quotas are up substantially, averaging 50 per cent over last year."

Shingleton said mechanical, electrical and chemical engineers with bachelor's degrees will average $677 per month to start. Accountants will average $602, and liberal arts majors up to $504 a month, he said.

City Of Lansing Dedicates Day To Joi Lansing

LANSING (UPI) — Figuratively speaking, prominent (39-23-35) actress Joi Lansing was the biggest attraction in town Thursday.

Mayor Max Murningham proclaimed it "Joi Lansing Day" in honor of the first visit by the well-endowed blond to her namesake city. Miss Lansing also was made an honorary citizen of the city and introduced to the state Legislature.

Dressed in what she called "a clinging high neck aqua silk dress," Miss Lansing informed newsmen that she was probably best known as the "sweater girl" on the Bob Cummings television show. She appeared recently in the movie "Marriage on the Rocks" with Frank Sinatra, and now is on a night club tour.

Miss Lansing also revealed that her real last name is Loveland but "nobody would believe it," so she changed it to Lansing when she was 14 years old. Shortly thereafter Miss Lansing appeared in her first movie, "Daddy Long Legs," but soon outgrew children's roles, she said.

Native Mormon

A native of Salt Lake City, Miss Lansing is a Mormon and neither drinks or smokes. She was anxious to meet Gov. George Romney, who also belongs to the Mormon Church, but the governor was out of town.

Miss Lansing was invited here after a Detroit newspaper columnist noted that, although she bore the same name, she apparently had never visited Michigan's capital city.

To help make up for that oversight, Mayor Murningham said in a proclamation, "Miss Joi Lansing is uniquely qualified by her charm, talent, beauty, and name to act as a goodwill ambassador for our fair city."

The distracting Miss Lansing, who is married to a California real estate dealer notwithstanding her use of the miss title, toured the city's fire station No. 1, the city hall, and lunched with 125 men at the Kiwanis Club.

Blows Kisses

Later, she crossed the street to the state Capitol where she met with Lt. Gov. William Milliken and then was escorted into the Senate Chambers by State Sen. Roger Johnson, D-Marshall, who grinned sheepishly all the way to the rostrum.

Miss Lansing blew kisses to the senators while news photographers' cameras clicked, was presented by Sen. S. Don Potter, R-Lansing, with "the only free pass to Michigan's toll free highways," Sen. Joseph S. Mack, D-Ironwood, then offered to reimburse Mackinac Bridge toll if she would visit the Upper Peninsula.

In the House chambers, Rep. H. James Starr, D-Lansing, tried to make Miss Lansing an honorary resident of his district but was gavelled down and told the matter was "personal business."

"I am absolutely overwhelmed," Miss Lansing said at the conclusion of the ceremonies. "Lansing is very close to my heart. As a matter of fact, I believe I would like to leave my heart right here with you."

Thief Drops Clue

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — A careless thief made things easy for police. He dropped his wallet at a construction site where $200 worth of screen doors were stolen.

Police said the suspect beat them to the arrest. The owner of the wallet, Caludius Walls, 43, was already in jail, on a traffic charge.

Research Honor

MARQUETTE — Miss Susan Kosonen, a Northern Michigan University senior from Negaunee, is one of two students from 12 midwestern universities selected to participate in a biological research program at the Argonne National Laboratory, Chicago. The 16 to 26 week research participating program "for seniors of high ability who intend to pursue graduate studies" in cooperation with Central State Universities, Inc. of which Northern is a member.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

HAPPILY balanced home features a raised formal living room with dramatic cathedral ceiling and adjoining large porch and patio, which creates a modern appearance. Traditional charm has been maintained as well, by the use of small paned windows with shutters and projecting bays. The kitchen offers the choice of an informal dinette area or breakfast bar or both. Also of note in the kitchen is a planning desk. A grille divides the living room from the stair to the second floor with its three bedrooms and magnificent master suite. Plan HA419P was designed by Samuel Paul, 89-30 161 St., Jamaica, N.Y., and contains 965 square feet of space.

Art Boosters Shop In London

LONDON (UPI) — Twenty-seven art representatives from Detroit said Thursday they are planning to buy some art treasures in Britain and would be "limited only by quality."

The group represents the Detroit Arts Commission and the administrative staff of the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Lawrence A. Fleishman, president of the commission and of the Archives of American Art, said their visit is "an administrative study—how to improve our own situation in Detroit."

"They have been studying the policy of museums and art galleries here. Fleishman told a news conference they were impressed by the laboratories at the National Gallery dealing with the deterioration of masterpieces and by Britain's systems of guards at museums."

"You have almost three and a half times the number of guards as we have," Fleishman said.

"The National Gallery and the Tate (Gallery) interested us most," he added.

They also visited the British Museum, the Victoria and Albert Museum, the Wallace Collection, Sotheby's (auction rooms) and a number of private galleries.

They arrived Sunday on the first official visit of this type and leave this weekend.

Student Waxes Poetic At Exams

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (UPI) — Larry Sullivan, 22, of Seminole, Tex., waxes poetic at the final examinations starting today at Midwestern University.

"If I fail this course, it will disappoint mom."

"She will be getting letters from South Viet Nam."

"I know that to you it is just a trifle."

"But mom doesn't like me to carry a rifle."

"I know where I'll be if my answers come wrong."

"I'll be taking my class notes from the Viet Cong."

Pupils Study By Microwave

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit School system Thursday began transmitting classes on two new microwave television channels.

Dr. Carl Byerly, assistant superintendent of schools, said the addition of the two channels to the existing UHF Channel 56 allows the transmission of three programs simultaneously.

He said 60 schools are equipped to receive the new programs.

Hero, 12, Flunks

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — H. Lloyd King Jr., 12, won a certificate of merit from the Boy Scouts of America Wednesday for saving his 5-year-old brother from drowning last May. Last summer, sometime after the incident, Lloyd took life-saving course from the Red Cross.

He flunked it. They said he could not swim well enough.

Traffic Safety No. 1 Problem

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan residents believe crime and traffic safety are the most important problems facing the state, according to a report by the Michigan State University Highway Traffic Safety Center.

Crime led the list of major problems by seven percentage points, the report said, but most metropolitan areas outside of southeastern Lower Michigan put traffic safety as the No. 1 trouble spot.

Two-thirds of the persons questioned favored a compulsory written test for drivers every three years when they renew their licenses.

Three-quarters favored raising the minimum driving age from 16 to 17 and nearly all those questioned preferred that all beginning drivers, regardless of age, take driver training.

On the issue of compulsory annual vehicle inspection nearly 90 per cent voted yes—provided no fee is charged. Only 80 per cent would want it if a $2 fee were charged.

The survey, which has been presented to state legislators, was prepared by the MSU Communications Department in cooperation with the traffic safety center.

Dr. Verling C. Troidahl, MSU professor who directed the survey, said a surprising 80 per cent of those questioned were in favor of having police officers decide whether to administer a sobriety test to suspected drunk drivers. Such permission has been sought unsuccessfully in proposed "implied consent" legislation.

The survey was financed by a $40,000 grant from the Chrysler Corporation Fund, a non-profit organization.

Stove Explodes With Kerosene; 6 Die In Fire

MELVILLE, La. (UPI) — It was chilly and Charles Tunwar, 52, dashed kerosene over a reluctant fire in a wood stove. An explosion followed.

Moments later, his home was gone and his wife and five children were dead. Tunwar lay in a hospital, critically burned.

His wife, Geraldine, and their children, Elsie, 11, Bobbie Mae, 9; Mary Ann, 5; Rosemary, 3, and Charles Jr., 7, were fatally trapped Wednesday by the flames.

Military Record Expert To Retire

LANSING (UPI) — Miss Elizabeth Carmony, a 45-year state employee who has been responsible for the records of nearly one million Michigan servicemen, is scheduled to retire from the Military Affairs Department today.

Miss Carmony, who has served six adjutant generals of the Michigan National Guard, was to be honored today at a retirement luncheon. She has been regarded by the department as an expert on Michigan's historical military data.

Two Gas Firms Plan To Merge

DETROIT (UPI) — Two mid-western gas companies Thursday announced their intentions to merge.

The American Natural Gas Co. of Michigan said it and Central Indiana Gas Co. have entered into an agreement under which American Natural will purchase the assets of Central Indiana.

Under the agreement Central Indiana stockholders would receive slightly more than six-tenths shares of American Natural common stock for each share of Central Indiana common stock now held.

American Natural is the top company of a public utility system which includes Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. and Wisconsin Gas Co., with gas distribution properties in principal cities in Michigan and Wisconsin. Central Indiana distributes natural gas in a six-county area of Central Indiana.

The agreement is subject to approval by stockholders of both companies and must also be authorized by the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Public Service Commission of Indiana.

Attractive Front Terrace

ATTRACTIVE TERRACE: Placement of the front terrace between the bedroom and garage wings adds 234 square feet to the livable area of the house. Diamond-paned windows, partial roof, flagstoned floor and arched columns make eye as well.

By ANDY LANG

Effective use of all available space is the chief concern of the conscientious and competent architect in designing a house of modest proportions.

In a large house on a large plot, there can be one or more areas which serve no functional purpose. In a house the size of the newest House of the Week—with dimensions of 62' by 39'4"—including the garage—it is important that every inch of space be used well.

Architect Lester Cohen has done an excellent job of giving a three-bedroom family 1590 square feet of living area. But he has done even more than that. Through an interesting U-plan, which places an attractive front terrace between the opening in the U, he has provided 234 additional square feet of habitability. By covering half of the terrace to form a porch, he has insured both the usefulness and privacy of the area.

The terrace, with its flagstoned floor and arched columns, blends well with the natural stone veneer on the front of the bedroom and garage wings, giving a kind of colonial flavor to what is essentially a ranch house. The result is a pleasant exterior, in good taste and suitable for any neighborhood.

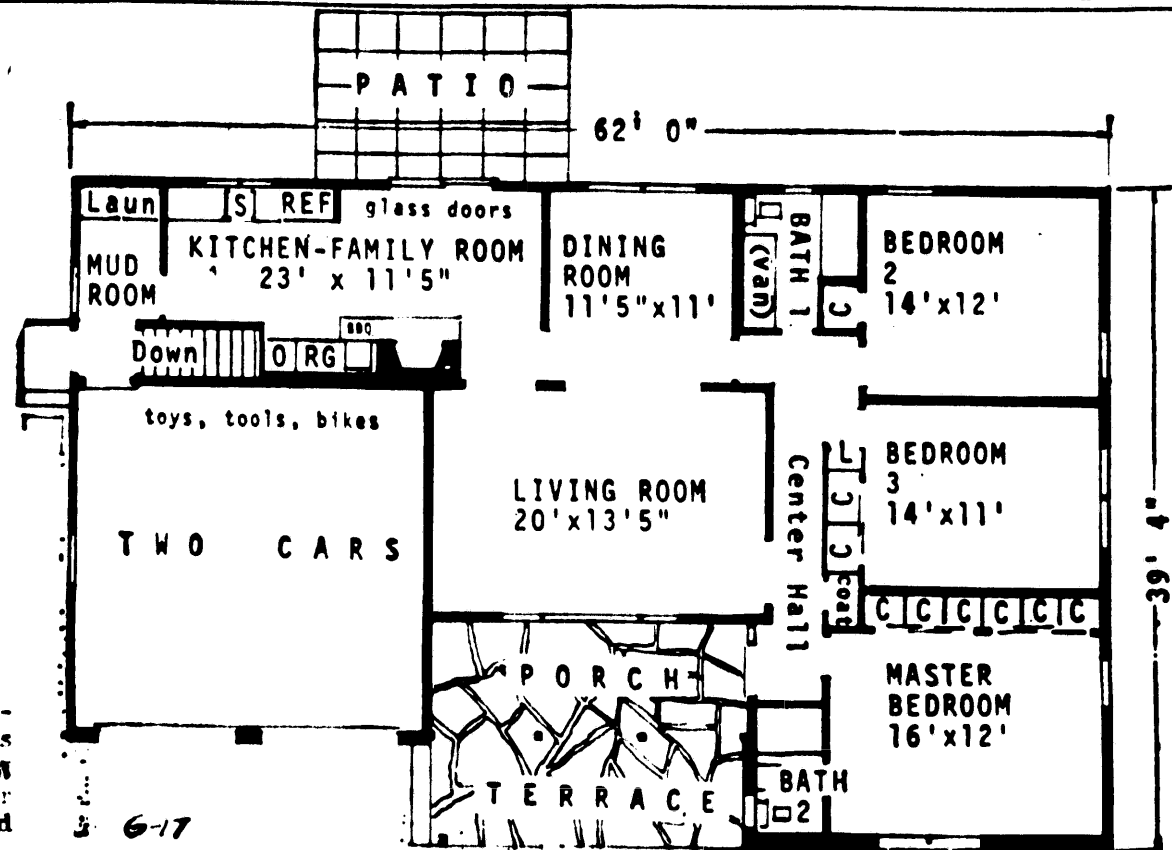

One of the space-saving features which serves a triple purpose. It is a foyer, a bedroom hallway and a buffer zone between the sleeping wing and the living area. The main bathroom serves two bedrooms as well as the living area, being convenient to both. The master bedroom has its own bath and unusually spacious closets.

Diamond-paned windows in the living room form part of the back wall of the front porch. There are entrances from the living room to the dining room and the combined kitchen-family room, which is 23' long. Sliding glass doors lead from the family room portion to a rear patio. Double windows over the kitchen sink provide good supervision of the backyard. A barbecue adjoins the range and oven is part of the family room's fireplace ensemble.

There are two entrances into the mud room and laundry, which are adjacent to the kitchen. One is from the side of the house, the other from the garage. The latter arrangement will be appreciated by the housewife who has to carry packages from the auto into the house.

The two-car garage is large enough to permit the storage of toys and tools. There is a full basement, with the stairway to it at the entrance to the mud room.

A glance at the floor plan of Design G-17 shows how well architect Cohen has succeeded in making use of all the space at his disposal. The owner of this house is sure to get his money's worth.

FLOOR PLANS: Long open areas between the kitchen and family room, and the living room and dining room, create illusion of spaciousness in modest-sized home. Note how single hallway serves as a center hall and a bedroom hall.

EFFECTIVE COMBINATION: Fireplace and adjacent barbecue add relaxing touch to this combined family room-kitchen, with door in background leading to convenient mud room-laundry.

G-17 STATISTICS

Design G-17 has a living room, a dining room, a combined kitchen-family room, fireplace, mud room-laundry, three bedrooms, two baths, a center hall, a large terrace and a two-car garage. Total livable space is 1590 square feet, excluding the terrace, garage and rear patio. Over-all dimensions are 62' by 39'4". There is a full basement.

State Buildings To Get Ramps

LANSING (UPI) — A bill to provide easy access to state buildings by physically handicapped persons Thursday became the first measure voted on during the 1966 legislative session.

Introduced by State Sen. Garland Lane, D-Flint, the bill requires that all state buildings constructed after July 1 contain facilities for the physically handicapped. It passed the Senate 27-0 and went to the House.

Lane, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, said the bill requires such things as ramps in addition to stairs and, in some cases, added elevator service. The cost of these additions might go as high as $100,000 in some buildings, he said.

The bill was a substitute version for a similar measure originally passed in the House last year. It was sent back to the House for concurrence in Senate amendments.

Classes Resumed For Burned-Out Otsego Schools

OTSEGO (UPI) — School bells rang again for 700 junior high school students here whose building was wrecked by a $150,000 fire Jan. 8.

The students have been distributed on a temporary basis to other schools, churches and parts of the burned building not destroyed.

Supt. John M. Prevost said resumption of the junior high classes came earlier than was anticipated.

Colorful Peach Trees Proposed For South Haven

SOUTH HAVEN (UPI) — A proposal has been made that peach trees be planted along the approaches to South Haven.

Will Reed, manager of the South Haven Chamber of Commerce, proposed the trees because they would beautify the approach to the city and also advertise the community as the birthplace of the world-famed Haven Variety of peaches developed by Stanley Johnson of South Haven.

The tree being considered for planting is an ornamental variety that bears colorful and long-lasting blossoms and requires little care. A row of these trees has beautified the area near the Michigan State University Experimental Station here for several years.

Thief Hits Twice

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A short bandit about 60 years old handed a note to a teller at the First Western Bank on Mission Street Wednesday and escaped with $3,000.

Bank officials said a man answering the same description and using an identical note got $580 from a teller in an adjacent cage just eight days before.

When money means more than a weekly allowance

As soon as a boy has a newspaper route money takes on a new meaning—it's no longer simply a handout from dad. From his route experience he learns the value of thrift; the logic of saving. And when Christmas or birthday time comes around he can proudly use his own cash to purchase gifts.

In addition to learning the basics of money management the boy with a newspaper route gains other rewards that will stay with him for the remainder of his life. He develops skills on his route that many boys may never acquire. He's able to put classroom theory into actual practice. And by working with men who are trained to develop his best potentials he's often a couple of jumps ahead of his classmates.

Hints from Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Gals:
I wonder how many women automatically buy the "large economy size" of soap, etc., without doing a little mental arithmetic to see if it really is economical.

Sometimes, when you figure out how much a certain item costs per ounce, you may discover that two of the smaller containers may cost less than one large one.

As an example, I usually buy salad dressing by the quart, but the last time I needed some I checked the price, then picked up a pint jar of the same brand from the same shelf and found that I would save six cents by buying two pints instead of one quart!

The same example applied to one and two pound cans of coffee! And again on the same shelf in the same store. However, if you DO get more for your money by purchasing the larger ones, just put the contents into smaller, easier to handle containers.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:
I buy much longer shades than necessary for my kitchen windows, and when the bottoms become soiled I just cut off the soiled portion and sew in a new hem.

Mrs. W. B.

Dear Heloise:
For people who knit, I have found a wonderful use for the new style coffee cans with the plastic tops.

After I empty and wash the tin, I cut a hole, about the size of a dime, in the plastic top.

I put my yarn in the can, pull the end of the yarn up through the hole and replace the plastic top. There is no tangling, and the yarn stays clean.

Cover the can with a piece of adhesive-backed paper, and you have a very pretty and handy yarn holder.

Mrs. K. T. R.

Letter Of Thought

Dear Heloise:
People who want to find a friend, should try being one.

Your Friend

Dear Heloise:
That hint about placing a heel from a loaf of bread on top of cabbage, broccoli, etc., to keep the odor down while cooking is wonderful.

To keep the bread from falling apart, I made a pocket for it of nylon net, fastening the open side with a toothpick. This enables me to take the bread out in one piece, after the vegetables are done.

Alma Connor

Dear Heloise:
To prolong the life of linens, don't ever hang them on the line by the corners.

When hanging small hand and dish towels, lay them over the line at least three inches from the ends; bath towels six inches, and sheets six or eight inches, etc.

Matilda Homes.

Home Economist

Dear Heloise:
Your name is quite bettitting.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:
To make a burned pot easier to clean, I sprinkle baking soda in the bottom of the pan, add vinegar, and let it stand for about 20 minutes.

Then it cleans like a charm.

R.

Dear Heloise:
Plastic mattress protectors can and do slide now and then when they completely cover the mattress.

Place any old piece of rubber sheeting (I used the kind covered on both sides with flannel), or any old blanket, between the mattress and springs.

The mattress won't slide, and whatever you use in between won't show.

Mrs. Joan W.

Dear Heloise:
Proper refrigerator temperature for preserving leafy vegetables is 60 to 65 degrees F.

Each shelf in a refrigerator has a DIFFERENT degree of coldness: The first (or top) shelf is the coldest, the second, less cold, etc.

M. Lewis

Dear Heloise:
We just moved from our old house where there was no shower.

In our new home there is a shower, and I wanted to try it out.

Since we didn't have a shower cap, Mom said I couldn't take a shower.

So . . . I had a bright idea. I took a pair of baby's plastic pants, pinned the leg holes shut, put it on my head, and I had a shower cap.

It must be good. Even Daddy uses it.

Sandy McGlothlin, Age 10
P. S. We may never buy a cap 'til the pants wear out.

Dear Heloise:
I hit on the idea of using the pretty new paper towels on the cupboard shelves that I use most frequently, and on which the shelf paper became soiled easily.

They are quite inexpensive, and look lovely.

Gaye Pokora

Dear Heloise:
Putting up curtains on a lot of windows was a chore, until we marked the rods with identifying marks just where they go into the brackets. Then it was just up the ladder with the curtain and rod already threaded, and right into the brackets.

Woods Workers Shortage Causes Industry Crisis

A crisis in woods labor shortage in the Upper Peninsula which is expected to become worse with time was described today by representatives of wood industries dependent upon U.P. wood supply.

The implication is that city factory jobs may be affected by the inability to attract enough loggers into the woods.

There was a critical undertone in the report on the government job training programs which have been a big factor in the decision of many men to leave woods work.

One commentator said "The training programs were set up to train the unemployed. But unemployment is the profession of some of the unemployed and the training recruited some of the best workers in the woods to learn a new skill and then leave the area to use it."

A labor shortage in the big cities coincides with government War on Poverty efforts to train the unemployed so the flow of labor from the U.P. to the big cities is accelerated.

U.P. wood industry spokesmen are fearful that this trend may have an enduring result of shortening up the U.P. woods labor force. Already short, it is now incapable of turning out the volume of wood needed for sawlogs, veneer logs, pulpwood, cedar posts and other products.

A small shortage of woods labor was regarded earlier as desirable, because it tended to create shortages that helped force up woods wages. This was regarded as necessary to make woods work attractive to U.P. residents. Young people have not been attracted to woods work in sufficient numbers to replace those retiring because of age, and this imbalance has now been worsened by the recruitment of woods workers for government training for other jobs in the big cities.

Jack Noblet, lands and forestry manager of Goodman Division, Calumet & Hecla, Inc., described the woods labor situation in the U.P. and Wisconsin as "extremely critical." He was exploring the possibility of getting prisoners released on parole to meet emergencies, as planned in the Lower Peninsula.

"They keep talking about a 'depressed area,'" he said, "but we can't get people to work. The situation prevails from Newberry all the way to the Copper Country. Large jobbers report that they're losing skilled operators because they're being trained as machine screw operators or some other thing. The men have never had it so good and won't be inclined to go back into the woods."

"There's need for hundreds of workers, and not only for logs, but for pulpwood too. The paper companies are sweating it out. Scott's Detroit Sulphite Division is short of wood and looking for some in the Upper Peninsula. (Packaging Corp. of America at Filer City, Mich., was also looking for U.P. wood this week to augment dwindling supplies.)"

Widespread Effect
"These shortages have a way of backing up. They will affect sale of stumpage on state and federal lands. Once we lose woods workers we don't get them back."

Merton Jensen of Sawyer-Stoll Timber Co. said "we're very much concerned about it (the woods labor shortage) now and we think it's going to be worse. We had trouble getting out the 1965 cut and I don't know where the labor's coming from for the sap peeled popple cut next summer."

"Besides lack of labor the increased costs for insurance have a lot of producers discouraged and some are quitting. In the Blaney and Newberry areas the situation is desperate and in the mining areas the mines have picked up the best men. Unless there's relief prices we're going to be in very serious trouble."

"One Lower Peninsula paper mill which ordinarily doesn't buy in the U.P. is looking for wood up here. Another is reported down to a week's supply. U.P. mills with good inventories of wood haven't noticed it much yet, but we may have to go to machine peeled popple this year."

Cedar Needed
John Walbridge, president of Early American Fence Co., said that the cedar industries are worse off than the paper mills because they're at the lower end of the wood production cycle. Much cedar is cut in the U.P. after pulpwood quotas are met.

Early American raised its prices on cedar 10 per cent at the beginning of the season and has made two subsequent increases and wood deliveries still are 20 per cent behind last year, but the heavy delivery period isn't here yet.

"We've added the increased wood costs to the price of fencing," said Walbridge. "We don't know yet if the increase will stick, but we expect it to and we end up paying a reasonable price for cedar. That should help us establish a market so cutters don't treat it as a by-product."

Other industry spokesmen said that the woods shortage is statewide and nationwide. They said the seasonal nature of woods work makes it unattractive in competition with other jobs and added that the increased draft demands had taken many woods workers.

Park Official Wins Promotion

HOUGHTON—John C. Raftery, chief of the Division of Resource Management and Visitor Services at Isle Royale National Park has been promoted to assistant director of a National Park Service training center. He will leave the Copper Country next month for Grand Canyon National Parks' Horace M. Albright Training Center. The center is designed to promote the orientation, indoctrination, and career development of new employees who aspire to managerial roles in the National Park Service. Jack and Helga Raftery arrived in Houghton four years ago and they have been very active in civic and community affairs.

Boner Award Goes To NBC

DALLAS (UPI)—The Dallas Bonehead Club "Bonehead of the year" award will be presented today in the NBC news department for its broadcast of a professional football game and the Gemini 7 launch Dec. 4 on the same screen at the same time.

"This is our only way of expressing the sorrow we have for those poor souls in the NBC TV news department who must have sat up many a night trying to decide which program should have priority, then in a moment of complete frustration, threw common sense to the wind and blundered their mistake across the screens of millions of unbelieving television viewers," the Boneheads said. William B. Monroe, NBC Washington bureau chief, will accept the trophy of walnut and silver topped by a large silver nut. Jim Marshall, defensive end

Tech Branch To Stage Carnival

Carnival fun will be mixed with classwork for MTU-Soo students next week when the annual Winter Carnival will be held, Jan. 23-29. Highlights will be the coronation of the queen, a concert by "The Womenfolk" and "The Highwaymen," and the traditional Snow Ball.

Snow statues depicting this year's Carnival theme, "Americanism," will be erected on the campus parade ground, and competition in a variety of athletic events, both serious and humorous is planned for the week. A novelty will be an auto road rally on Sunday, Jan. 23.

of the Minnesota Vikings, received the award last year for his 66-yard, wrong-way run with a fumble for a safety against San Francisco. Marshall started out for Dallas to accept the trophy but got on a wrong flight and ended up some place else.

Vision Screening Discovers 388 Sight Problems

A ninth-grade girl with no vision in one eye.

12th-grader with no vision in one eye and only sub-par sight in the other.

A 12th-grader with no vision only distinguish the large "E" at the top of a standard eye chart.

Those were some of the vision defects uncovered in a recently-completed vision screening program in Delta County schools conducted by the Delta-Menominee District Health Department, according to Nancy Pearson, supervising nurse.

Tests were administered by Jeanette Manning, Escanaba, registered vision technician.

Of 3,511 children tested, Mrs. Manning made 388 referrals for treatment.

Records Kept

Miss Pearson explained that children found to have vision defects are referred to family doctors for complete examination and treatment. She said that the Health Department keeps records on all of the children referred to make sure they get attention.

"If nothing is done, the department checks with the parents," she continued. "If they need financial help, we help them get it."

Miss Pearson said the screening program, administered every other year, probably catches about 95 per cent of the cases where children examined have vision defects.

"It isn't completely fool proof," she added, "but it's pretty good."

She explained that some children with eye defects could memorize responses of a normal child preceding them in examination. It's also possible that a child by guessing at some of the responses could show up with normal readings.

Guard Against Error

That, however, doesn't happen very often and the department takes precautions to guard against the memorization of response possibility by testing children alone where possible.

Some cases are missed each time through absentees.

"The third to fifth grade years are when most of the eye troubles begin to show up," she said.

Children attending all Delta County schools, except Gladstone, were examined. The Escanaba Area schools tested grades one, three and five. All grades were checked in other schools.

Miss Pearson explained that Gladstone conducts its own program through its own school nurse. The county assists the Escanaba area because of the large number of schools, both public and parochial, in the area.

Space Trackers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate agreed Thursday to allow European nations to build a space tracking station in Alaska.

It approved and sent to the White House legislation designating the European Space Research Organization as an international group and exempting it from import duties in construction of the station at Fairbanks. Eleven nations belong to the group.

Copper Controls

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government is placing tight controls on copper to ease the domestic shortage created by demands of the war in Vietnam.

The Commerce Department Thursday put a virtual embargo on exports of ore, concentrates and other refined copper. It also set up quotas on copper products, with Canada the only exempt nation.

Something New in Big City Schools

Behind this pleasing exterior, the students of Brooklyn's P. S. 45 find a colorful beehive of isolated activity, designed to mean education and opportunity to them.

P. S. 45 in Brooklyn is a school which may start a trend. As conceived by Morris Kelchum Jr. and Associates, the architects, a midcity grade school should be a little world of its own, isolated from its neighborhood. Entering in the morning, the children start six-and-a-half hours in a clean, bright, stimulating world, a delight to the eye as well as the mind. The school is built looking inward on two courtyards. There are no exterior windows, thus discouraging vandalism and shutting out street noises and distractions. There are expanses of orange bricks, contrasted with sections in tan and beige. Color is everywhere. Another innovation, the efficient lunchroom for the 1,600 students is equipped only for heating and serving frozen foods.

Classrooms open onto courtyards, are light and airy.

Move To Force Mining Planned

ASHLAND, WIS.—Ashland and Iron counties are threatening to cancel all existing iron ore mining leases Mar. 1 in an attempt to force the starting of mining activities here.

It is charged here that the lease holders are keeping their holdings in "cold storage." By ending, or threatening to end, the leases, the counties hope to force the firms to agree to begin operations or face the loss of their lands.

At a joint meeting this week of the two county boards of supervisors, it was decided to draw up a cancellation resolution to be acted on at the same time by both boards. The resolution will be drafted by the committees at a meeting Feb. 3. The dates of the two county board meetings in March were shifted so that both groups could approve the cancellations at the same time.

The largest lease holder in Ashland County is Ashland Mining Corp., a subsidiary of McLouth Steel Corp., Detroit. It has some 760 acres in southern Ashland County under lease.

Ashland Mining has paid the county some $240,000 for more than 10 years to protect its holdings, but the hoped for mining operations have not developed.

Other lease holders here include United States Steel Corp., Snyder Mining Corp. and Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., none of which is working their lands.

Wife Holds Gun

CHICAGO (AP)—When wild animal trainer Robert Baundy, 42, enters the cage with eight tigers, his wife stands outside with a revolver loaded with special blunt pointed bullets.

"They have blunt points so that they won't go through the tiger's head and perhaps hit me, too," he said after a performance with a Shrine Circus.

He says there is more than a hint of show business involved in producing any animal act.

"You must create the illusion of danger," he said. "That is why I do not wear a shirt while performing with the big cats. The customers realize that I do not have the protection of the clothing if one of the cats makes a leap for me."

During one night performance a tiger named Angel leaped at him from behind. A warning from his wife enabled Baundy to escape being mauled, by inches.

Escanaba Backs Effort To Share In Federal Tax

A return to Escanaba of at least a portion of the federal income tax its citizens pay to the federal government is sought in an action given encouragement by the City Council Thursday night.

The Council is backing a proposal by the City of Ann Arbor and other communities requesting Gov. Romney to intercede with President Johnson in an effort to have a percentage of the federal income tax funds returned to the community from which they were derived.

The Council expressed itself in full agreement with the recent letter of Mayor Wendell E. Hulcher of Ann Arbor to Gov. Romney asking his influence in bringing the request to the attention of President Johnson.

"There is a widespread agreement today that cities need aggressive leadership and action based upon sound plans and expanded financial resources to meet the needs of dynamically exploding city populations and new social and economic conditions."

Accordingly, I propose that a portion of the local income tax paid by Ann Arbor citizens to the Federal Government be made available for local needs as determined by local government," wrote Mayor Hulcher.

For example, even $10 a person would mean $150,000 a year from Escanaba's 15,000 population.

The district office of Internal Revenue could simply divert the funds to the city and Square dancing at "the fun Javel" will be held at the Eagles Hall starting at 8 p. m. Monday, Jan. 24. Interested persons are welcome.

The U. P. Stock Car Racing Association plans its annual dancing party for Saturday night from 9 to 1 at the Eagles Hall. Members, their wives and lady friends are invited and cards will be honored for admission. The Association plans a May-through-September racing season in Escanaba, says Rene Lippens.

Thomas J. Tonkin, 18, of Escanaba Rte. 1, was sentenced in Municipal Court today to pay a fine of $15 and costs of $5 for being a minor in possession of an alcoholic beverage. He was arrested by Escanaba police at Little Mike's tavern the night of Jan. 18.

Restitution of $30 to the Red Owl store of Escanaba for an insufficient funds check was made by Glen V. Blist of Iron Mountain after a warrant issued by Municipal Judge James Fitzharris was served by Delta County Sheriff C. A. Johnson. Blist also paid court costs of $5.

Escanaba police have issued traffic court summonses to David L. Kositzky, 1228 Stephenson Ave., speeding and drag racing; Thomas R. Greenfell, 617 S. 10th St., speeding, drag racing, excessive motor noise and no operator's license on person; Caryl Ann Silverstein, Escanaba Rte. 1, defective head light; Robert J. Briceo, 1506 Minneapolis, Gladstone, drag racing; Larry O. LaPalm, Escanaba Rte. 1, speeding.

send the rest to Washington.

"It would save much red tape and allow us to solve our local problems with our own money through local initiative, action and leadership. We shall continue to welcome suggested standards prepared by Federal bureaus and we will resist Federal controls," Mayor Hulcher continued.

"We don't like to line up for Federal approvals and handouts. We do believe, however, in complete cooperation. And we value our freedom too much to accept Federal dictates. We prefer to use our own money for our own needs in our own way. In this way you will find us happier, more cooperative and willing to give our all for Uncle Sam when necessary for national defense and those services best handled at the Federal level."

"There are rosy predictions for the future, such as 'the standard of living will go up up 40 percent in the next ten years.' That means the paychecks of most of us (but not all, unfortunately) will be much fatter and the Federal income tax slice will grow dramatically."

"We would like to use some of it to raise the standard of living in our city of all our people through the public services rendered to our citizens," Mayor Hulcher said.

St. Luke's Gets $500,000 Gift

MARQUETTE—The Board of Trustees Thursday accepted a gift of $500,000 from the Mott Foundation of Flint to build a new pediatric floor at the hospital.

Dr. Arthur Tuuri, director of the children's health center of the Mott Foundation, said the grant represents a continuation of interest of Charles S. Mott and the foundation in the children of the Upper Peninsula.

Lincoln B. Frazier, president of the hospital board, said "such a wonderful thing could not have happened at a more appropriate time. The proposed plans for the greater St. Luke's building program incorporated a new pediatric unit but we were unsure of its realization until now."

"The tremendous generosity on the part of the foundation is heart-warming."

St. Luke's plans to develop an entire floor of the hospital to provide a specialized and modern facility for restoration of health and function of children from throughout the Upper Peninsula who suffer from childhood diseases.

TV Cable Firm Loses Channel 2 Under FCC Plan

George E. Baldwin, manager of the Delta TV Cable Co., today asked public support of his firm's protest on Federal Communications Commission plans which would block out part of the present television programs offered in the Escanaba-Gladstone area.

Other areas would be similarly affected by the national order which is expected when the FCC meets on Feb. 7.

The ruling to be made by the FCC will implement its policy, adopted earlier, of protecting local TV stations like WLUC-TV, Channel 6, Marquette, the only Upper Peninsula television station, from competition by outside TV stations.

At present WLUC carries most Columbia Broadcasting System programs. Since all these programs are also carried by WBAY-TV, Channel 2, Green Bay, Wis., it would be necessary for the Delta TV Cable Co. to block out Channel 2 on its cable service.

Because all WBAY's CBS programs are not carried by WLUC, said Baldwin, those not carried by WLUC will be lost to local viewers with the Channel 2 cable blackout. The Cable Co., said Baldwin, does not have switching equipment which would make it possible for it to be selective and block out only the Channel 2 programs carried on Channel 6.

Within five years, said Baldwin, the Cable Co. will have to drop Channels 2, 5 and 11 from its local service. This is the period which FCC plans to give U. P. Microwave, Inc., which serves the Cable Co., with its TV programs, to amortize its equipment. Also periled are two FM channels on the cable service.

The prospective order kills all chances that the Cable Co., will be able to add WGN's TV programming to its offerings, said Baldwin. He saw the upcoming order as the doom of his company. "We won't be able," he said, "to carry anything that

Copper Country Train Service Threat Removed

HOUGHTON — The only passenger train service to the Keweenaw Peninsula would end if the Soo Line abandons a train that connects with the Milwaukee Road at Champion, say Soo Line officials.

A spokesman for the line said the railroad would ask abandonment of the service if the Post Office Department decided to use trucks instead of the train to haul mail. The Post Office Department has notified the line that it was studying the matter because the Zip Code was adapted for highway transportation.

The spokesman said, however, that the line's freight service in the Peninsula would continue. He clarified remarks made by Leonard H. Murray, president of the line, at a conference in Marquette suggesting a Soo Line suspension in the U. P. might be necessary.

The Soo Line forms the northern link of the Milwaukee Road's Copper Country Limited, which originates in Chicago.

"Had it only been for passenger service, this service would have been ended long ago," the spokesman said. "The mail service made it justifiable."

He said the line lost $70,000 a year on that run.

A spokesman for the Milwaukee Road said in Chicago that there were no plans to seek abandonment of that train's service from Chicago to Champion. He said the Post Office Department had notified the road that it would continue to use trains for hauling mail from Milwaukee to Champion.

people can't get on their roof-top antennas, so why should they pay $4.75 a month for TV cable service?"

He urged that citizens write Congressman Raymond Cleveland and U. S. Senators Philip Hart and Patrick McNamara to protest the planned order by FCC prohibiting duplication of local TV station programs by outside stations.

Strike Called For Monday By Trainmen

CLEVELAND (UPI) —The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, scheduled to strike Monday over a dispute on assigning trainmen to railroad crews, said Friday that 100 railroads have refused to negotiate on the subject.

Charles Luna, president of the 185,000-member union, said that if the courts issued an injunction to the railroads the union "will abide by the law."

"But we are unhappy over the tactics of the railroads," Luna said. "They have refused to negotiate, even refused to talk to us."

The brotherhood tried last June to resolve the manning issue in response to an arbitration board order to settle the dispute, Luna said. Agreements with 32 Eastern railroads were reached last year.

Luna said the other railroads "refused to meet our officers. We have sought mediation under the Railway Labor Act. The mediation board is just now getting around to assigning mediators."

"We want to settle this issue," he said. "We have shown this by taking individual action apart from the other unions in signing a crew-consist agreement with the Eastern roads."

Tipoff Upsets Extortion Try

DETROIT (UPI) — A Detroit man was arrested Friday night and charged with extortion after he allegedly tried to obtain $700 from former Brookdale Cemetery manager Sydney List, Joe Lawson, a cousin to Howard Dowdy, whose brother's body was the first one declared missing in a continuing investigation of misburials at the cemetery, has denied the charge.

State Police trapped Lawson in the Tasty Cafe (at Fort and Lagoon) in Detroit after List tipped them off about the extortion try.

State Sen. Raymond Dzendzel, Senate majority leader from Detroit, said List telephoned his Lansing office Friday morning and told him Lawson had called him the previous night asking List for the money to prevent Lawson's testifying against him in court.

List is awaiting trial in Circuit Court on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Dzendzel said he huddled with two lawmen assigned to the Senate Corporations Committee and told List to carry out Lawson's plan. List had told Lawson to call back Friday afternoon, which police said Lawson did.

When the money was passed at the restaurant, the lawmen moved in and arrested Lawson.

Alleged Detroit Mafia Members Caught In Raid

DETROIT (UPI) — Two alleged members of the notorious Mafia were arrested in a raid at a night spot here early today.

The raid was carried out on the orders of Wayne County Circuit Judge Edward Piggins, who issued the warrants for Peter Vitalia and Costa Colacides, both identified in police records as allegedly being members of the Mafia.

The two were immediately arraigned on charges of conspiring to bribe and attempt bribery of a police officer and held pending bond.

Piggins immediately subpoenaed a one-man grand jury investigating ticket-fixing in Wayne County, has refused to say why the investigation was broadened, but it is noted he is authorized to investigate crime and corruption throughout the county.

Piggins immediately subpoenaed the confidential records of both men in the files of the Criminal Intelligence Bureau of the Detroit police department. He also asked Police Commissioner Ray Girardin to assign two inspectors as his aides in the investigation.

The inspectors are Earl Miller and Howard Gladu. Gladu is an inspector in the CIB, and Miller was an inspector there until a short time ago. He was reassigned to communications after he had leaked a confidential file on Mrs. Viola Luizzo, the civil rights worker who was slain near Selma, Ala. last March 25.

Vitalia was held pending $7,500 bond while bond on Colacides was fixed at $5,000.

Terrorists Bomb U.S. Saigon Billet

SAIGON (UPI) — A terrorist bomb killed a sleeping U.S. Army sergeant and wounded two other soldiers in an enlisted men's billet in suburban Saigon early today in a Communist violation of the New Year cease fire.

The 25-pound bomb, tied to a drainpipe outside a converted villa near Saigon airport, also wounded four Vietnamese and wrecked two nearby buildings.

Military spokesmen said the Communists had committed at least 52 truce violations since midnight Wednesday.

The Communists incidents, including 15 attacks on government troops and villages and 37 against allied forces, were mostly minor.

India-Pakistan Accept Plan To Withdraw Troops

NEW DELHI (UPI) — India and Pakistan reached agreement today on a plan for the withdrawal of troops from the troubled border area where they fought a three-week war last fall, it was reported here.

Defense Ministry officials said Indian Gen. J. N. Chaudhuri and Pakistani Gen. Mohammad Musa Khan, commanders of their respective armies, agreed on the plan at a two-hour conference here. No details were made public immediately.

The generals were working out details of the agreement on troop withdrawal concluded by the late Premier Lal Bahadur Shastri and Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Khan in Tashkent earlier this month.

Spanish Town Denounces U.S. And Its Bomb

CUEVAS DE ALMANZORA, Spain (UPI) — About 50 villagers, frightened by Monday's crash of a U.S. nuclear bomber on Spain's southeast coast, denounced "the U.S. and its bomb" in an anti-American demonstration here Friday night.

The demonstrators dispersed peacefully after about 30 minutes.

In Madrid, it was announced that Spanish authorities have barred allied flights over Spain en route to and from the British base at Gibraltar.

This appeared, however, to be a new move in Spain's campaign of harassment of the base. So far as was known, it had no connection with the crash of the U.S. plane, which was not based at Gibraltar.

Ever since the crash hundreds of U.S. airmen have been searching a 6-to-8 mile area for "secret military elements" of the B52 nuclear bomber.

The Air Force announced Wednesday that the bomber was carrying "unarmed nuclear armament." It would neither confirm nor deny reports that the troops are searching for a missing nuclear weapon.

There also were reports that Spanish rural police were being treated for radiation poisoning, but investigation showed that the men had merely undergone routine check-ups for exposure to radioactivity.

Role Too Tough

Herbert Marshall Dies Today In Beverly Hills

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UPI) — Herbert Marshall, suave sophisticate of stage and screen, died today after more than half a century of playing English gentlemen and villains. He was 75.

Marshall, whose right leg was amputated following a severe wound during World War I, died at his home here. Cause of death was not immediately available.

He had been something of a recluse in recent years, appearing in movies or television productions only spasmodically and seldom making public appearances. His most recent picture was "The Third Day," filmed in 1965.

A quiet-spoken man who shunned Hollywood night club life, Marshall's courage in overcoming the loss of his limb won him the respect and affection of the movie colony.

Two Democrats Submit Plan On Districting

LANSING (UPI) — Two Democratic members of the State Apportionment Commission Friday sent to the Michigan Supreme Court a tongue-in-cheek legislative districting plan based on a five per cent population spread.

Ivan Brown of Iron Mountain and Henry Dongvillo of Scottville told the Court in a letter-statement attached to 33 detailed maps they were an example of what would happen if Republican standards were "honestly followed without the introduction of a partisan gerrymander."

They also said the GOP plan was "not truly drawn to the alleged standards claimed for it."

Republicans have asked the Court to adopt a five per cent plan they claim most closely conforms with federal equal population standards and Michigan constitutional guidelines requiring regularly shaped districts following political subdivision lines.

Democrats have flatly rejected this approach as unconstitutional and have asked the Court instead to lock in current districts until after the 1970 census.

In a statement filed with the Court Jan. 14, the Democratic apportionment commissioners charged the Republican five per cent plan was a deliberate GOP gerrymander.

According to Democratic figures, the Republican plan would result in the creation of 22 Republican districts, 15 Democratic districts, and one "swing" district in the Senate; and in 54 Republican, 33 Democratic, and three "swing" districts in the House.

Democrats now control the Senate 23-15 and the House 73-27 as the result of "one man, one vote" districting drawn by Democrats and ordered adopted by the Court last year.

Brown and Dongvillo said their Senate plan would break only two county lines as compared with the Republicans' three; and that their House plan would breach just nine counties as compared with the Republican's 11.

They also said their House plan had a population spread of 4,971 as compared with the Republican five per cent plan that had a population variance of 5,620. But their Senate plan had a population spread of 19,383. The Republican plan had a Senate spread of 16,590.

Bombing Pause Of US Ignored By Communists

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Hope for early peace talks in the war in Viet Nam hit a new low here today with the disclosure the month-long pause in U.S. bombing attacks on the north has failed to spark any sign of Communist interest.

The public statement of apparent rejection of U.S. peace offers came from Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who said "we have been listening for sounds other than the sound of bombs and grenades and mortars in South Viet Nam."

"I regret that I cannot report to you any positive and encouraging response to the hopes of the overwhelming majority of mankind."

Rusk said the failure of the Communists to respond favorably to President Johnson's peace offensive came despite "every opportunity" to do so.

Renewal Possible — Rusk's carefully worded remarks at a news conference Friday could be interpreted as bringing the United States closer to a resumption of the air assaults and other increased military measures.

But the secretary declined to tip the administration's hand, saying he would not talk about future military action.

Indications in diplomatic quarters were that no major U.S. decision was imminent. The impression was that the bombing suspension would continue well beyond the Oriental New Year truce, which ends Sunday.

While Rusk injected a new note of urgency into peace efforts by warning that Hanoi has been given ample time to accept Washington's peace bids, he declined to say whether time is running out for the Communists.

His remarks reflected President Johnson's obvious intention to establish a firm case for any action he may feel necessary if the North Vietnamese persist in rebuffing his peace efforts.

Extent Cited — This involves making it clear to potential critics at home and abroad the United States has gone to the greatest possible lengths to allow the Communists to change their minds before being forced to intensify warfare.

The secretary said the United States would continue to seek peace "with patience and persistence," but added it remained firm in its determination to halt aggression. He was evasive when asked whether this country has received any sort of response at all from the North Vietnamese, referring back to his original statement there had been no "positive and encouraging" response.

CAN DOUBLE FORCES — A clearer picture of U.S. ability to fight a Korean-level war in Viet Nam emerged today, while hopes were dwindling for success in President Johnson's efforts toward peace.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, in his second day of questioning before the Senate Armed Services Committee and defense appropriations subcommittee, dealt Friday with American capability to double its present forces in South Viet Nam. The hearings are on Johnson's $12.3 billion defense request.

Sen. Stephen M. Young, D., Ohio, said the sessions had shown the United States could increase the number of troops in South Viet Nam from the present 190,000 to 400,000 by October or November. During the peak of the Korean war there were 402,000 U.S. military men on the ground, at sea and in the air.

Future U.S. commitments could hinge on the chance of a meaningful reply to the peace offensive from North Viet Nam. But that chance seemed slim Friday to Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who said there had been no positive response.

The defense secretary also disclosed the level of Communist infiltration from the North had remained at about 1,700 men per month during the period of the peace effort.

The infiltration rate had been tripled shortly before the bombing pause and a decrease could have been interpreted as one reply to the peace offensive.

Rains Too Late For Transvaal

JOHANNESBURG (UPI) — Widespread rain in the southern Transvaal eased the drought in South Africa today, but experts said it was too late to save crops in some places.

Officials said the water level in the Vaal Dam Reservoir, which supplies water to some 3 million persons in the industrial complex around Johannesburg, is rising.

Weatherman predicted general rain today throughout the Transvaal, including the northwestern area which was hardest hit by the drought.

Cambodia Guns Thai Village

BANGKOK (UPI) — Cambodia shelled a Thai village on the Gulf of Siam Thursday night and Friday and deployed four boatloads of troops offshore as if planning an invasion, Thai authorities charged today.

The village of Haadlek, near the town of Klong Yai, was the target of the attack.

It was the second attack on the Haadlek area in three weeks. Thai authorities said the presence of amphibious troops may mean Cambodia seriously intends an invasion of Thailand.

The strip of Thailand in which Haadlek is located is less than five miles wide in the area where the attack occurred. It would be virtually indefensible if the Cambodians launched a strong military drive against it.

Thai Premier Thanom Kittikachorn warned after an attack on Haadlek Jan. 2 that there would be "strong retaliation" if Cambodia attacked again.

State Outlines Progress Plan In Conservation

LANSING — Michigan's "new" Conservation Commission, holding its first regular monthly meeting since being established Jan. 1, last week unveiled a 10-point platform for progress in 1966.

In outlining its goals, dealing with conservation's most pressing needs, the Commission noted that none of them may be fully achieved in the next 12 months.

However, it promised to try hard to make gains toward these objectives during 1966, hoping that future commissions will press on along these same lines in the years to come.

Outline Goals
Point by point, the Commission pledged its efforts this year to:

Implement the concepts of state government reorganization as outlined in the Executive Reorganization Act of 1965, with the specific objective of developing harmonious and productive relationships among the agencies included in the "new" Department of Conservation.

Those agencies added to the Department recently include the Waterways Commission, Mackinac Island Park Commission, Water Resources Commission, Michigan Tourist Council, and Boating Control Committee.

Pursue the development of sound and adequate financing for the Department of Conservation.

Attack vigorously the problems of environmental pollution, particularly those involving water.

Cleaner Water
Press for the establishment in Michigan of a state code of water rights and use which will recognize and delineate the legitimate interests of recreation, public health, business, industry and agriculture.

Continue to encourage the purchase of land, particularly in southern Michigan, for parks and other public recreation and to promote recreational development of parks and lands already in public ownership.

Seek to establish a better understanding in relationships with the Legislature in the utilization of discretionary authority for the Commission to manage natural resources according to scientific principles.

Encourage the Department staff to further develop and refine its methods and techniques for the scientific management of resources.

Intensify measures to rehabilitate the Great Lakes for the benefit of both sport and commercial fishing.

Take steps to recodify and simplify laws regulating the use of Michigan's natural resources, especially those relating to fish and game.

Work for better public understanding of all conservation programs.

MISS PATRICIA E. Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Butler, 428 S. 17th St., has enlisted in the U. S. Women's Army Corps, it is announced by M/Sgt. Kenneth L. Swette, local Army recruiter. She is a 1965 graduate of Holy Name High School, will have basic training at Fort McClellan, Ala., and will be assigned to the Neuropsychiatric Procedures School at Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

Bringing Booze From Wisconsin Violates Law

Michigan people who purchase their alcoholic beverage supplies in Wisconsin are engaged in an illegal traffic, they are paying more if they figure all their costs, and they are depriving their own state of these revenues.

This situation has been subject of comment in the past and it is likely to be translated into a police record for the participants if the practice continues, enforcement officials agree. For the transporting of Wisconsin liquor into Michigan has become a standard routine by many Upper Peninsula residents.

Groups make up a "pool" or "kitty" to which they contribute x-number of dollars. When any member of the group is returning from Wisconsin he stocks up with a few cases of this and that before he crosses the state line.

The illegal entry of booze from Wisconsin may be only a drop in the total Michigan consumption—$245 million dollars worth in 1965—but it represents considerable loss nonetheless to Michigan salesmen, dealers, and to the state itself.

League Favors Apportionment On Population

The Escanaba League of Women Voters recently completed its study on Apportionment, a study made by all Leagues in the U.S. after the decision of the Supreme Court on Apportionment.

The local League had three unit meetings on Apportionment which were presented by Mrs. Jack A. Winters, chairman, and her committee: Mrs. Elnora Veder, Mrs. Irving G. Olsen, Mrs. D. Douglas Seelen, and Mrs. N. L. Lindquist.

The following is the major opinion of all Leagues in the country on Apportionment:

The members of the League of Women Voters of the United States believe that both houses of state legislatures should be apportioned substantially on population.

The League is convinced that this standard, established by recent apportionment decisions of the Supreme Court, should be maintained and that the U.S. Constitution should not be amended to allow for consideration of factors other than population in apportioning either or both houses of state legislatures.

Of overriding importance to the League in coming to this decision is the conviction that a population standard is the fairest and most equitable way of assuring that each man's vote is of equal value in a democratic and representative system of government.

Other considerations influencing League decisions are that the U.S. Constitution should not be amended hastily or without due consideration because of an "unpopular" court decision, and that individual rights now protected by the Constitution should not be weakened or abridged.

Against the background of its long-standing interest in state government, the League also hopes that by maintaining a population standard state government may be strengthened by insuring that state legislatures are more representative of people wherever they live.

Finally, the League feels certain that the term "substantially" used in Supreme Court decisions allows adequate leeway for districting to provide for any necessary local diversities.

The state's take from the sale of alcoholic beverages for 1965 was about $115 million dollars, up about $10 million from the year before. Schools, cities, townships and the state share in the distribution of these revenues.

James Peterson of Gladstone, a liquor salesman, speaks for Michigan licensees when he objects to the growing practice of Upper Michigan residents in buying their alcoholic beverages in Wisconsin.

"The Specially Designated Distributors who are licensed by the State of Michigan must operate their liquor business under very dismal conditions," he reports.

"In the first place, while they operate on a small margin based on 10 per cent discount, they in turn must pay the high costs of overhead. Out of their small margin of profit they must pay liquor license fees and state and excise taxes.

Pay Heaviest Tax
"During the past year of 1965 the SDD's of Michigan collected and paid into the State Treasury a gross state tax of about $115 million dollars. This estimate includes beer and wine taxes also," Peterson continued.

"While it is true that the alcoholic beverages are the heaviest taxed commodity produced in the U.S. (an average of 39 cents out of each dollar spent for distilled spirits is for taxes—Federal, state and local) it should be made known to the citizens of Michigan and remembered by them that these taxes are included in the price to them, but that these taxes are paid into the state treasury and are used by the state for the benefit of all Michigan citizens," Peterson said.

Michigan's liquor dealers are licensed by and regulated by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission and they can not "lower their prices to make deals to compete with 'wheeler dealers' of nearby Wisconsin even if they wanted to cut their small margin of profit smaller yet," Peterson continued. "Yet they cannot raise their price to the Michigan public under the same rule."

Money For Schools
Peterson pointed out that the Michigan SDD's are "the victims of the most flagrant law breaking by Upper Peninsula people" who "would rather spend their money in Wisconsin and thus deprive themselves and their children of the benefits of these taxes to save a few dollars."

"How many people know that over 5 per cent of every dollar spent on Michigan liquor goes to Michigan schools?" How thinking persons can spend their money on Wisconsin liquor is beyond my comprehension," he said.

"How many people know they are flagrantly breaking a Michigan law by purchasing and transporting out-of-state liquor over the Michigan state line? I wonder if they know they are subject to arrest, fine, confiscation, and obligation to pay all Michigan taxes, fees and mark-up?"

"Can they imagine the embarrassment of being picked up as an illegal liquor transporter?" Peterson concludes.

Legitimate Gripe
DALLAS (UPI)—A woman complained to the Better Business Bureau that the 109 pairs of hose she bought from bargain-offering door-to-door salesman all had holes in the heels, runs and were not matched for size.

Fines Ordered For Licensees

Liquor licenses—two in Escanaba, one in Gladstone and another in Bark River—have been ordered by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission to pay fines for violating Commission regulations, the Commission reports.

Francis S. Smith, White Birch Tavern, Gladstone Rte. 1, was ordered to pay a fine of $150 for selling to a minor on Nov. 12, 1963.

Fern O. Dubord, 1530 Sheridan Road, Escanaba, is to pay a fine of $150 and close for seven days beginning Feb. 14 for selling to a minor on May 29, 1965.

William J. King, King's Tavern, 918 Ludington St., Escanaba, was ordered to pay a fine of $150 and was given 7 days suspension effective Feb. 14 for selling to a minor on May 28, 1965.

Andy's Bar at Bark River, charged with selling after the legal hour on August 28, 1965, was ordered to pay a fine of $100.

The hearings for all four were held by Commission in Escanaba on Jan. 6, 1966.

At Gwinn the Charlie and Vi Tavern, charged with selling to a minor on Nov. 25, 1965, was ordered to pay a fine of $150 and the license was suspended for five days beginning Feb. 14.

Dog Is Missing:

Girl In Hospital Wants Pup Back

Six months ago Theresa Smith, 16, was a passenger in an automobile involved in a traffic accident. She was critically injured.

Theresa is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Smith of Kipling.

"She was in bed most of the time but now they have her up in a wheel chair," said her mother. "But she will soon have to be taken to Marquette by ambulance where she will receive the attention of a bone specialist."

Theresa's birthday was on New Year's Eve and her family made the event a real celebration for her at the hospital, complete with a cake and candles.

The relatives have been calling on her also to relieve the tedium of convalescence. Mr. and Mrs. David Lapanne came to visit her all the way from Bradenton, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Corner came from Lansing; Leon and Bonnie Disdrow from Central Lake, Mich.; the Donald Keens came from Sacramento, Calif., and the Henry Lippens of Rock were among the callers.

But Theresa misses one of her "friends" very much—a small brown Boxer dog named Sid, who was only a couple months old when she was injured and taken to the hospital. "When we went to visit Theresa we would take the dog along and leave him on the hospital grounds," said Mrs. Smith. "Then the nurses would roll Theresa's bed or wheel chair to the window so she could see Sid."

A couple of weeks ago Sid could not be found and Mrs. Smith said she believes someone picked up the small dog and carried him off.

"Will you please help us get him back?" she asked. "Theresa would like to see her dog again before she goes to Marquette."

Workers For Industry

The income from wood industries isn't well documented because it flows in so many little streams of farmer and jobber income as well as in the big rivers of income from the paper mills, veneer plants and other such major installations.

But it has been a sort of rule-of-thumb that wood industry provides more income in the Upper Peninsula than any other part of the economy. With the resurgence of iron mining and a total production worth about $150 million a year it is obviously near the top if not there, but wood industry continues a giant of the U.P. economy.

It is also one of the brightest stars in the heaven of our U.P. economic expectancy. The economists say that with increasing management of the huge U.P. forest, wood industry is one of the most promising prospects for the area's business growth.

This bright promise is currently under a dark cloud.

There is a severe shortage of woods labor in the Upper Peninsula. The work force is short by hundreds of laborers of the numbers needed to get out the pulpwood, sawlogs, veneer logs, cedar posts, mine timber and other wood products needed to keep the mills operating and the markets supplied.

This situation has been forecast for several years. Its approach has been gradual but certain and unrelenting and it is now here in force and severely crippling the winter wood harvest that supplies the raw materials for mill jobs for thousands of workers.

The Upper Peninsula has for decades had a pulpwood surplus. It has depressed prices and even resulted in the lowering of some prices, although the cost of producing wood has increased. There's still a surplus of pulpwood, of at least some species of wood, but the prospect that this wood will move to market in a surplus flood has disappeared.

Some of the largest suppliers of wood to Upper Peninsula and Wisconsin mills wonder if they'll have enough woods labor next summer to meet their peeled aspen market needs. This is a species whose use is expanding, but the present prospect is that the mills' needs may not all be met.

The shortages resulting from the lack of woods labor are so severe in some areas that Lower Michigan paper mills with only enough wood for a week's operation in their yards have been in the U.P. trying to buy wood. Ordinarily they make no procurements here.

The pulpwood situation is only one phase of the crisis. It is worse in the sawlog and veneer fields because of their larger character of operation.

Part of this problem evolved naturally. Workers were lured away to better-paid jobs in the cities. The seasonal character of woods work and its hazards and all-weather exposure also make it less attractive than factory jobs that provide more take-home pay. So the young people of the rural Upper Peninsula haven't been going into woods work like earlier generations. The woods labor force has been aging and shrinking.

The shrinkage has been greatly accelerated in the past couple years by the War on Poverty efforts and similar programs of the federal government. Designed to provide job skills for the unemployed and the underemployed, they have made welders and machine screw operators and other types of technicians out of loggers and sent them to the big cities for employment.

The process upgraded job skills or at least changed expert sawyers and dozer operators into bench workers and provided many exported workers with a work life that they preferred to a woods job. But it didn't solve the problem of woods industry. This problem is to keep enough residents in forest areas to harvest the forests. It has been a problem for a decade and now it is an intense problem.

The training programs rejected suggestions that logging skills be taught in an effort to upgrade the Upper Peninsula's greatest single work force. Such training is much more difficult to set up than benchwork skills and its job problem is also complicated by woods wages. Woods industry has welcomed some shortage of labor supply because it solved a former surplus of such labor and because it worked to increase wages. But the pendulum has swung too far now and there's not enough labor.

There is a fear, too, that the rising wages for woods labor will not attract sufficient workers because they've been recruited away to other jobs permanently in one more manifestation of America's city trend. The situation shows the lack of depth in planning for a healthy balance between the needs of area workers and the needs of area industry.

Full-Time Job

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — dinner is to be?" Interjected Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien, who is widely expected to continue both as President Johnson's top political strategist and a key liaison man for him with Congress, thought he ought to deal with these reports.

He took care of the matter neatly with this public utterance:

"The postmaster generalship is a full-time job, and I expect to devote much of my time to it."

No matter how big the government bureaucracy may grow, there will never be enough important government officials to fill the speakers' slots on the programs of the many annual dinners in Washington. This problem is often vexing to both parties.

Former Postmaster General Edward Day recalls that the head of a large organization once dropped by his office with a flattering plea for Day to speak at his group's yearly shindig.

The board of directors, he said, had unanimously decided that Day was the man best qualified to make the speech. They had considered many back, the snorer awoke. Slowly, but he was the one they always came back to. They knew, of course, that Day would have a particularly significant message for them.

1966 Showed Birth Defects

Huge Cause Of Deformity

For most of the country, 1965 was a year of bitter harvest: the thousands of defective "rubella (German measles) babies" born to women infected during their pregnancies the year before.

New, unexpected and disturbing findings about the behavior of the rubella virus and its capacity to kill or damage babies in the womb overshadowed other significant developments in biology and medicine related to birth defects.

The year produced new evidence of the magnitude of birth defects as a cause of death and impairment in the United States.

In clinical medicine, the expanding network of March of Dimes Birth Defects Centers across the country was having enormous impact, not just in providing specialized birth defects treatment that wasn't available before, but in changing patterns of pediatric practice as a whole.

In science, there was exciting progress in biochemical genetics and in manipulation of the basic code-of-life chemicals... there were noteworthy discoveries concerning abnormal chromosomes... advances in understanding inborn errors in body chemistry... and important reports on mental retardation of congenital origin.

The National Foundation-March of Dimes, now spearheading the fight against birth defects, has research grantees working in all these areas, including five projects attacking the German measles problem.

The organization appropriated $4,000,000 for research in 1965. This included major support for the Salk Institute for Biological Studies at San Diego, where the first permanent laboratory buildings were completed in the fall and are now being outfitted.

During the year, the Foundation's Birth Defects Centers program continued to grow toward an eventual target of 100. A year ago the network had 41 centers. Six more were established in July. The number of centers financed with March of Dimes funds will jump to 69 as of Jan. 1, 1966.

National Foundation chapters in 38 states awarded more than $1 million in support of this center program in 1965.

"The toll taken by birth defects of all kinds," says Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation, "is appalling, and is not generally appreciated by the public."

1965 was a year in which the scope of congenital defects as a national health problem was more clearly defined than ever before.

Statistical studies conducted by the national Foundation revealed birth defects to be the No. 2 cause of death in this country—the next greatest "killer" after heart disease. Before and after birth, they claim more lives than cancer and stroke combined.

O'Connor summed up the grim statistics:

1-250,000 babies born defective every year in the U.S. alone.

2-An estimated annual death toll of 560,000...including miscarriages, stillbirths and spontaneous abortions due to congenital abnormalities.

3-More than 15,000,000 persons in the country with one or more defects which affect their daily lives.

4-An estimated 1,375,000 defective children under six years of age in the U.S.

Stressing that birth defects kill or maim at the very beginning of life—in contrast to the so-called "major killers" which claim their victims mostly among older persons—O'Connor urged top priority attention to the problem by health officials, doctors and the public together.

Finding The Way

Conscience Of Society

By RALPH W. LOEW, D. D.

However, another major problem confronts us. What is the church meant to be? Are we suggesting that the church reflect the current thought patterns or is it to reflect the will of God as men best understand that moral law?

If the wallet is used as a tyrant, will the church only be the mirror of the neighborhood instead of becoming the conscience of society.

Such are the questions that ought to be considered before the pledge card is burned or the subscription canceled. The church ought to be a laboratory where these basic questions are thought through. On too many occasions these moral pronouncements may only have been given from a pulpit where there was no possibility of re-echo or announced in the press with no possibility of discussion. We need a new maturity for discussion within our churches, a freedom where men can differ without jeopardy or without loss of personal dignity.

The pledge card burners use a method to express their negative vote but it thwarts lively and provocative thinking. It effectively isolates us into a contemporary mind-set instead of seeking the mind of God.

I'm in favor of the right kind of fire in the church. That's the kind that causes men and women to speak with courage, debate with intelligence and counsel with maturity. That kind is not a pledge burner. That kind is described in the New Testament where those men of the church were typified as "afire with the spirit."

Obviously, the gift of money is a vote of confidence and the best principles of stewardship demand care and concern in the designation of one's gift. The thoughtful giver is going to be concerned about the use of the funds.

STUDIES

A reader came into the Press' Manistique office the other day, talking casually about her sons and mentioned that one didn't take algebra, as school guidance people at the time felt a general, rather than university course, would be better for him.

She said it was her hope that he'd take a university course but that she lived in the country and didn't get down to the school to talk it over, so she blamed herself.

I mentioned this to an acquaintance who served many years on the school board and he noted adjustment to high school is difficult and that it might have been well to try the boy in algebra for six months before making the decision. The young fellow went in service after graduation, was selected to attend radio school and there found it necessary to study algebra on the side to get through.

He is back from service now, has a family and is employed in a Lower Michigan auto plant. His mother hopes he'll still get to college or attend one of the trade schools. I think this points up a need to consider values of math and other subjects, even though it doesn't look like a youngster will go to college.

Bad Drivers Get Date In Court

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—A date with the judge instead of a date with the girl friend promises to be the Friday night activity of some young Lincoln drivers.

Municipal Judge Thomas McMannus has announced the first night traffic court for drivers under 21.

Any such driver arrested for a traffic violation will be ticketed for a Friday night court appearance instead of the usual morning session.

The judge said he is scheduling the night sessions to avoid conflict with school hours, to provide a chance for some driver education and counseling for young violators and to cut down on the daytime caseload.

The timing may have another deterrent effect since Friday night is date night, dance night, basketball game night and party night for the younger Lincoln set.

In one second the sun radiates more energy than man has used since the beginning of civilization.

Ann Landers Don't Leave Pills At The Bedside

Dear Ann Landers: The man whose wife died after taking an overdose of sleeping pills may not have been lying to his children when he told them, "Mommy made a mistake and took the wrong medicine."

Two years ago I went into a deep depression when we lost our only son. Our physician prescribed sleeping tablets along with tranquilizing pills. The night of the funeral I took two sleeping tablets and left the bottle on my bedside table. I was awakened at 4:00 p. m., the next afternoon by my panic-stricken husband and a concerned physician.

During the night I had taken four sleeping pills although I had no recollection of doing so. I could have taken the whole bottle and died.

The physician told us that medicine should never be placed on a bedside table. It should always be placed in the medicine cabinet so one must get out of bed and walk to get it. Please publish this letter. It could save a life. — LUCKY TO BE ALIVE

Dear Lucky: Thank you for the life-saver. And while we are on the subject, I'd like to add this: Partly-used bottles of medicine should be stored in a locked cabinet to eliminate the danger of getting the wrong medicine during the night.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I have been happily married for over 20 years. Craig is a fine person and he is kind and generous by nature. We have very few arguments and our sex life is excellent. During the last several months Craig has shocked me with his remarks in mixed company about our intimate relations. His slyly-worded "jokes" suggest that I am an inadequate bed partner.

Can it be that when men reach their middle 40's they feel the need to appear more active sexually than their wives? Is this part of the male ego?

I know very well that Craig is totally satisfied at home and I cannot figure out why he tries to make it appear otherwise. Please enlighten me. — PUZZLEMENT

Dear Puzzled: The reason for Craig's behavior is anybody's guess, and your guess is probably right on target. But whatever the reason, he is guilty of gross bad taste. I can't imagine a topic less suitable for small ways find jobs in loan company offices.

Explain Reason For Road Delay

The cause of the State Highway Department's postponement of U. S. 2-41 improvement projects from Gladstone north is explained by the Department in two words—higher costs.

The four-lane development from Gladstone to Rapid River plus other work was to have been up for bids in March. Then it was postponed to September.

State Highway Director Howard E. Hill, speaking in Detroit, told the Michigan Road

Builders Association that road building costs in Michigan zoomed up 20 per cent during 1965.

An analysis based on cost index shows the increases ranged as high as 67 per cent for deep sewers and 62 per cent for earth excavation.

Hill said the Department had been keeping a continuing record of the costs as indicated by bids on contracts during the year and comparing them with 1964 figures.

Among the items he cited: —Earth excavation, which held steady at 30 cents per cubic yard in 1964, increased to an average of 42 cents per cubic yard in 1965.

—Clearing rights - of - way prior to construction increased from a norm of $175 per acre to more than $300 per acre.

—The price of reinforcing steel increased from an average of 12 cents per pound in 1964 to 18 cents per pound in 1965 and pavement reinforcement rose from 62 cents to 72 cents per square yard.

A review of the items indicated that the most substantial increases in cost were reflected in the phases of construction activity requiring a substantial amount of labor, he said.

Coupled with the rising construction costs has been a similar increase in right-of-way acquisition costs, Hill said.

The increases in costs were a primary factor in forcing the state to postpone until September bid-taking on 12 primary road projects earlier scheduled for bids between March and August, Hill said.

City May Close Railway Avenue

The Gladstone City Commission will begin consideration at its regular meeting at 7:30 p. m. Monday of a proposal to abandon Railway Ave., behind the Marble Arms factory to make way for proposed expansion of Dynamic Division of Eaton, Yale & Towne, Inc.

The commission is expected to set a date for public hearing on the proposal.

Eaton, Yale & Towne is reportedly negotiating for the purchase of the current Marble Arms plant and adjoining property for future expansion plans.

In other business, the Commission will open bids on fire hose and water pump repairs, consider retention of industrial appraisers to evaluate city owned property and review recent legislation affecting the city.

Organization Of Development In U.P. Surveyed

Results of another phase of Michigan State University's study of the organizational structures influencing the Upper Peninsula's growth and development patterns were reported to U.P. educators at a meeting at Northern Michigan University on Jan. 18.

The study was made by Robert C. Anderson of MSU, assisted by Jack Schwartz, former Escanaba Chamber of Commerce manager then associated with MSU, in one phase of the study.

The study report states: "Michigan's Upper Peninsula today, like all of modern society, is a bureaucratic society; that is, most of its functional requirements are carried out and controlled by complex organizations. Not only does modern society as a whole tend to be bureaucratic, the most powerful social units which make up modern society are bureaucracies.

"These social units are not all big and powerful. In addition to big business, big labor, big industry, there are political parties, school systems, small retail stores, churches, voluntary associations and others which make up a large part of the social web of a geographic region.

Control Of Power
"We have postulated (proposed, undemonstrably) that organized special interest groups represent the basic social unit responsible for development.

These large or small, public or private, special interest groups act as development resources: holders, allocators, or receivers or some combination of these. Such organizations are control mechanisms through which power for development is generated and flows.

"As such, organized special interest groups of a given area become basic development resources. They are in a position to accumulate and control other types of resources necessary to achieve the development goals of a region.

"Resource allocation or requests can be made only to what is known to exist by those in position to allocate or request resources and in an area such as the Upper Peninsula if an organized special interest group is not perceived or recognized by others in the region, the resources of this group are not generally available or used in development efforts for that region.

Coalitions Form
"In this study we contend that social systems, organizations, are in themselves basic resources; but that if they are not recognized by other as resources, then they are not generally available for use in development activities.

"Social systems or organizations tend to persist over extended time periods. Members change, but the network of interests continue. Organized units making up the special interest groups or an area each possess a major purpose but are linked by issues of common concern. As specific issues rise and fall, overlapping coalitions of special interest groups are formed. Sometimes an organization is cooperating and at other times competing, sometimes engaged, at other times not involved with other special interest groups affected by an issue.

"As issues are addressed, some organizations are more powerful than others. An organization's power ranking will generally vary with the issue to be solved.

Control Systems
"Organizations are control systems, which for most people represent a major part of their environment. . . Organizations can be seen as having a fabric of roles that constitute the structure of the region, or interest group.

"This study was formulated around the postulate that the organized structure of the Upper Peninsula is made up of constellations of interdependent interacting social systems such as Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co., Kimberly Clark Corp., Clairmont Transfer Co., Michigan Tech, Chambers of Commerce, etc. All of these when added together make up the organized structure of the region.

"For purposes of our study organizations making up communities of interest center their primary activities in the specific interests of forestry, agriculture, fishing, mining, tourism, manufacturing, utilities, transportation, communications, education and service.

"This study attempts to use sociometric techniques to identify and describe relationships between the perceived influential organizations comprising the 11 specific interest factors in the U.P. (The sociometric inquiries were: What organizations does your organization deal with in carrying out its business?; What organization do you seek advice from or consult before making major operational decisions? What organization's opinions are especially important to your organization? What organization do you approach for help in achieving certain organizational goals? What organizations are leaders in their respective fields?)

Visits And Questionnaires
"Approximately 90 per cent of the respondents were visited personally, the other 10 per cent received questionnaires. The return rate on the questionnaires was approximately 80 per cent. The sociometric score represents the average of values."

The scoring, in order: City and village government, Conservation Department, Michigan Bell Telephone Co., Chamber of Commerce, North Central Airlines, public schools, Northern Michigan University, Michigan Legislature, U.S. Forest Service, Clairmont Transfer Co., Escanaba Daily Press, Michigan Tech, county boards of supervisors.

The other driver, Romert J. Brebner, 32, of 1424 N. 20th St., was ticketed for failing to yield the right of way. Police said he was taken to the hospital but left before he could be treated.

Child Clinic To Help Retarded

The executive committee of the Upper Peninsula Child Guidance Clinic, Inc., has agreed to accept the responsibility for administering day care centers in the Upper Peninsula for severely mentally retarded children.

At a meeting at Northern Michigan University Thursday, the committee instructed Donald Pascoe, Marquette, clinic director, to enter into a contract with the Michigan Department of Mental Health covering establishment and administration of the centers.

At present 15 such centers have been established in Michigan, all of them in the Lower Peninsula, and the Legislature has appropriated funds for six more centers, including a center or centers to accommodate up to 24 children in the Upper Peninsula.

Objectives of the day care are to provide retarded children with training in self-care, social skills, physical development opportunities, etc. The centers also help relieve mothers of their 24-hour burden of caring for retarded children. The centers help provide immediate care and training for children in their own communities instead of sending them to state institutions for this training.

Under terms of the contract with the U. P. Child Guidance Center, the state would pay all costs of the center operations — salaries, rent, utilities, supplies and incidental charges — while the clinic would be responsible for overseeing the operations.

Edward Ruman, Marquette, vice chairman of the Upper Peninsula chapter of the Michigan Association for Retarded Children, attended the meeting and offered the cooperation and support of his organization in connection with the day care center program in the Upper Peninsula. MARCH, he said, acts in an advisory capacity to agencies working with retarded children and volunteers assistance to these agencies wherever needed.

War On Poverty:

U.P. Is Given Nearly $2 Million

The War on Poverty in Michigan's Upper Peninsula got one of its biggest boosts today with the announcement of grants totaling nearly two million dollars.

The grant is by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare for a work experience program in the 15 counties of the U.P. and it was announced by U.S. Senator Pat McNamara and Congressman Raymond F. Cleverger.

The money will go to the Michigan State Welfare Department for programs administered by county agencies.

The $1,811,950 grant under the Economic Opportunity Act will finance a one-year program beginning Feb. 1, for heads of families and 1,000 trainees "to interrupt the poverty cycle by providing useful work experience in such jobs as cooks, hospital attendants, plus employment with county road commissions, other government agencies and private employers.

Michael Mahon, Marquette, the Social Welfare Department's special projects coordinator, said the grant will finance the training and work experience for breadwinners who are recipients of Aid to Dependent Children, and to Aid to Dependent Children of Unemployed parents, and direct relief.

Included in the program would be a number of services, additional, family allowances, remedial education, vocational training, occupational job development, some day care services.

Murder Hinted; Soviets Claim It Was Suicide

you tell me how this could happen?" Mrs. Mott asked Friday night.

The grief of Mrs. Mott and her husband, a dealer in rare books in this small western Massachusetts town, was marked with bitterness. A few hours before, the State Department said the Soviet Foreign Ministry announced that Mott, a book salesman for a Princeton, N.J., company, took his life by slashing his throat.

The alleged suicide occurred while Mott was being transferred to a Russian labor camp to serve an 18-month sentence for illegally crossing the Soviet border.

The Motts immediately made plans to journey to Russia. They were in contact Friday with their lawyer, F. W. Adams of New York City, the State Department and the Soviet Embassy in Washington.

Mrs. Mott said the Soviets promised to "look into the possibility" of arranging for her and her husband to go to Russia. "They said they would call back, but they didn't say when," she said.

$100,205 To Aid 6 U.P. Agencies

Award of a $100,205 grant from the Office of Economic Opportunity to UPCA (Upper Peninsula Committee for Area Progress) for technical assistance to the Upper Peninsula's six Community Action Agencies (CAA's) has been announced by Senator Patrick McNamara and Congressman Raymond Clevenger.

The CAA's were provided for under Title II of the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964 as a means of bringing community effort into the implementation of economic opportunity programs. The Economic Opportunity Act, basis of the federal War on Poverty, set up programs of education, vocational training, neighborhood improvement, loans, and others, to provide disadvantaged persons with the opportunity to develop their full potential.

Since their organization in the fall of 1965 the CAA's have been engaged in setting up their organizations and training their staffs. Five of the six agencies now have a network of four or five area representatives, employed from the low income group, who have established a communication link between the CAA's and members of the group to be served.

The area representatives have been actively seeking out the low income people from their areas to acquaint them with the various programs available under the Economic Opportunity Act. A program of referral has also been instituted by the CAA's for people who are interested in such programs as manpower training and for people who need other forms of assistance.

The CAA's are in the process of developing specific programs, including pre-school, dental, legal aid, home management and family living, and Indian programs.

As a preliminary to implementing specific projects, the CAA's have been conducting intensive studies of conditions in their local areas, and have begun surveys of all community resources available to aid the War on Poverty. The material resulting from the surveys will be gathered into a regional directory of community resources in the Upper Peninsula.

It was emphasized that the grant to UPCA is for technical assistance only and is not intended for specific projects. The assistance by the UPCA organization includes the provision of technical staff to provide needed research, assistance in planning programs and assistance in drafting formal proposals. UPCA staff services consist of a community action specialist, a research specialist and a publicity and information specialist. UPCA services also include assistance, including administrative assistance, from the UPCA Executive Committee and the executive director, and policy recommendations concerning regional coordination of the programs. The UPCA delegate body and the executive committee have the responsibility of coordinating local programs for the good of the region as a whole.

Harold Dettman, of St. Ignace, UPCA chairman, said "this grant will serve to continue and improve the support that UPCA can give in meeting the economic needs of the Upper Peninsula."

TB Test Urged To Protect Kids

The outbreak of tuberculosis in a Detroit nursery school and a reported outbreak of TB in a Marquette school, has turned public attention to the protective measures against this once dreaded disease throughout Michigan.

Dr. Mary L. Cretens, director of the Delta Menominee Health Department, says that Wisconsin has expressed concern over the work with children in War on Poverty project where there has been health screening of adult teachers.

Dr. Cretens said that for three years the Delta Menominee Health Department has urged schools to have their food handlers tuberculin tested for detection of tuberculosis, with x-ray testing of those who reacted positively to the skin testing.

"We've had pretty fair cooperation from the schools," said Dr. Cretens. "The testing of food handlers is required under an ordinance, and we've urged that teachers and bus drivers also be tested. We can do this free in tuberculin testing, with a follow up of x-ray examination in positive results."

The Health Department reported that some schools don't enforce the requirement and said it had no way to enforce it except to remind the schools that it is a legal requirement.

The Health Department has sought cooperation from two other groups in intimate contact with the public, the barbers and the hair dressers. The hair dressers have voluntarily cooperated 100 per cent in Delta County, said Dr. Cretens, but the barbers haven't cooperated. "We have been trying to get the barbers to accept the test," she said. "They should."

local businessman says:

No one enjoys the prospects of paying more taxes, but I believe the Escanaba Area has postponed rebuilding its schools long enough. The need for classrooms is real. Replacement of old schools is necessary. I believe the School Board proposal for 1.8 mills for all our school building needs is a fair request. The reduction in school operating millage from 3.8 mills to 3.0 mills indicates to me that this school board is attempting to hold down our tax bill. I will vote YES on both issues and urge you to vote YES too.

Greatest Events In American History No. 2

WHEN THE TRADITION OF DEMOCRACY GOT ITS START IN AMERICA

It's fitting that the idea for a democratic form of government in America was born at the site of the very first permanent English settlement in this country.

The place: Jamestown, Va., which was founded 13 years before the Pilgrims came to the new world. Settlers arrived in Jamestown in 1607.

By 1619 they were ready to hold an election, and in August that year they established our first elected assembly.

Other forms of government have been tried in history—government by kings, the privileged few and dictators; other means of choosing officials have been tried—such as through heredity, fighting, appointments.

But no system has ever been discovered that's better than democracy—permitting people to elect their leaders. And our tradition of a democratic form of government dates from that August day long, long ago.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT TO ALL CABLE TV SUBSCRIBERS:

Due to circumstances beyond our control
many programs normally seen tonight will

This may soon become a frequent announcement . . . just before your screen goes "black" on many of your favorite programs usually seen on your favorite channels. No, it won't really happen tonight . . . but it could happen . . . VERY SOON . . . UNLESS you do something about it NOW!

Your freedom to choose the television channel YOU WANT at the hour YOU WANT for the program YOU WANT may soon not be your right at all. Your choice will be controlled by the Federal Communications Commission in Washington, D.C.

Under Government regulations now being actively considered by the FCC, you may soon be denied the freedom to select your family television entertainment at the hour or on the channel you desire. A Federal agency will tell you WHICH station you can watch, HOW MANY stations you can watch, and WHICH PROGRAMS you can watch.

In short, the rules proposed by the FCC would give the Federal agency power to regulate your television reception . . . something previously unheard of in this country . . . an idea completely foreign to the American system of free enterprise broadcasting. In effect, the FCC would severely limit your freedom to select the channel of your choice for your family's television entertainment.

If you want to protect your rights as an American citizen . . . if you want to safeguard your freedom of choice . . . if you oppose unwarranted Government intervention in your family's TV viewing choice . . .

THERE IS SOMETHING YOU CAN DO:

Members of the Federal Communications Commission are not elected to office. BUT they are answerable to Congress. Write your Congressman TODAY. Let him know that you are against the FCC's proposed rule which will regulate and limit cable television reception. Let him know you are against a Federal agency taking upon itself powers not given to it by the Congress of the United States. Address your letter to:

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

I keep a pretty wicker basket at the foot of the stairway, and another one by the top landing.

Articles to be taken upstairs are put in the basket at the bottom, and items to be brought down are put in the one at top.

Each member of the family checks the baskets to see if there is anything to be taken up or down with him.

This eliminates many unnecessary steps.

Mrs. J. C. Moore
I think this idea is wonderful, and can be used by all households that have an upstairs, or those with a basement.

What's left in the baskets (and that should be very little — if Mom has taught each member of the family to do his part) could be put away by the backdoor of the home . . . "Mother."

Another Mother

Dear Heloise:

When painting floors (porch floor, for instance), I nailed a three-foot stick on the three-inch paint brush, and now I do not have to kneel down on the floor to paint, except at the corners and near the wall.

Grandma Perkins

Dear Heloise:

This may sound like a letter of laughter, but it really works. Ever find yourself without those little plastic sticks we put in our rollers when fixing hair?

I lose more than I can afford to buy, so I got a box of round toothpicks!

They are the same size as the sticks.

Faithful Reader

Dear Heloise:

I save all the steak juices, and put them in a container in the freezer; then, when I have a roast of beef, I use the juice along with the roast gravy.

Yummy. Plus, it gives me more gravy, as there never seems to be enough.

Marge

Well, what do you know? That steak juice would also be wonderful used as part of the liquid when cooking egg noodles, soups, etc., wouldn't it?

HERMANVILLE — Coach Don Hill's Hermansville Redskins, playing without regular Doug LaCourcier, reached the 90 point scoring mark for the fourth time this season with a 96-81 Big Seven Conference decision over Alpha.

The Redskins fired in 41 of 94 shots for 44 per cent from the field and added 14 of 30 from the line as they snared their 10th victory in 12 outings.

Randy Fochesato picked up the scoring slack with a 28 point production while Don Whitens, Harry Gordon and Len Wellings also reached double figures.

Earl Lepisto and John Kurtz teamed up for 41 of the Alpha points.

Hermansville won the junior varsity game, 64-41.

Johnson Pacing Keg Tourney

LANSING (UPI) — A field of the top 216 women and 216 men, led by Bill Johnson of New Orleans, headed into the second round of the All Star Bowling Tournament here today.

Johnson shot a blistering five-game total of 1212 pins Friday and jumped from sixth place in the tournament into the top spot with his three-day 15-game net pinfall of 3417. He was followed closely by Robert Materasso, of New York City, with a 3414 total.

The original field of 432 men was halved after Friday's competition and the identical number of women, 216, which had been idle during the first three days of the tournament, was ready to begin bowling today.

The two-day leader of the tournament, Bob Strampe of Detroit, fell to a 1088 total on Friday and slipped to third place with a three-day count of 3360.

The day's top thrill was provided by Lou Gard, a student at Western Michigan University at Kalamazoo. He bowled the second perfect game of the tournament and gained the support of the highly partisan Michigan gallery. Don Johnson, of Kokomo, Ind., had bowled the first 300 game of the tournament on opening day, Wednesday.

Leaders:

1. Bill Johnson, New Orleans, 3417.
2. Robert Materasso, New York City, 3414.
3. Bob Strampe, Detroit, 3360.
4. Nelson Burton Jr., St. Louis, 3303.

6. Jerry McClary, Denver, 3287.
7. Tom Hennessey, St. Louis, 3285.

Ishpeming, solidifying its first place position in the Great Lakes race, wiped out the Braves with a 23-4 opening period. Coach Bill Wood's casters went from bad to worse as they trailed at one time, 33-4, and 45-10 at the half.

It was strictly no contest with Ishpeming dominating all phases of the game. The victory boosted the Hematites to 6-1 in the conference while the setback was Gladstone's eighth against two victories.

Disaster struck early in the game for the Braves as Russ Sargent fouled out with three minutes still to go in the first period.

Gladstone played without star guard Lynn LaPlant who was sidelined with a knee injury.

The only Gladstone player to score in double figures was Mark Goodman with 10 points. Bill Zhulick paced Ishpeming with 22.

The Hematites hit on 31 of 89 field goals and 19 of 24 free throws. The Braves shot 29 per cent from the field, 17 of 59, and added only 6 of 24 from the line.

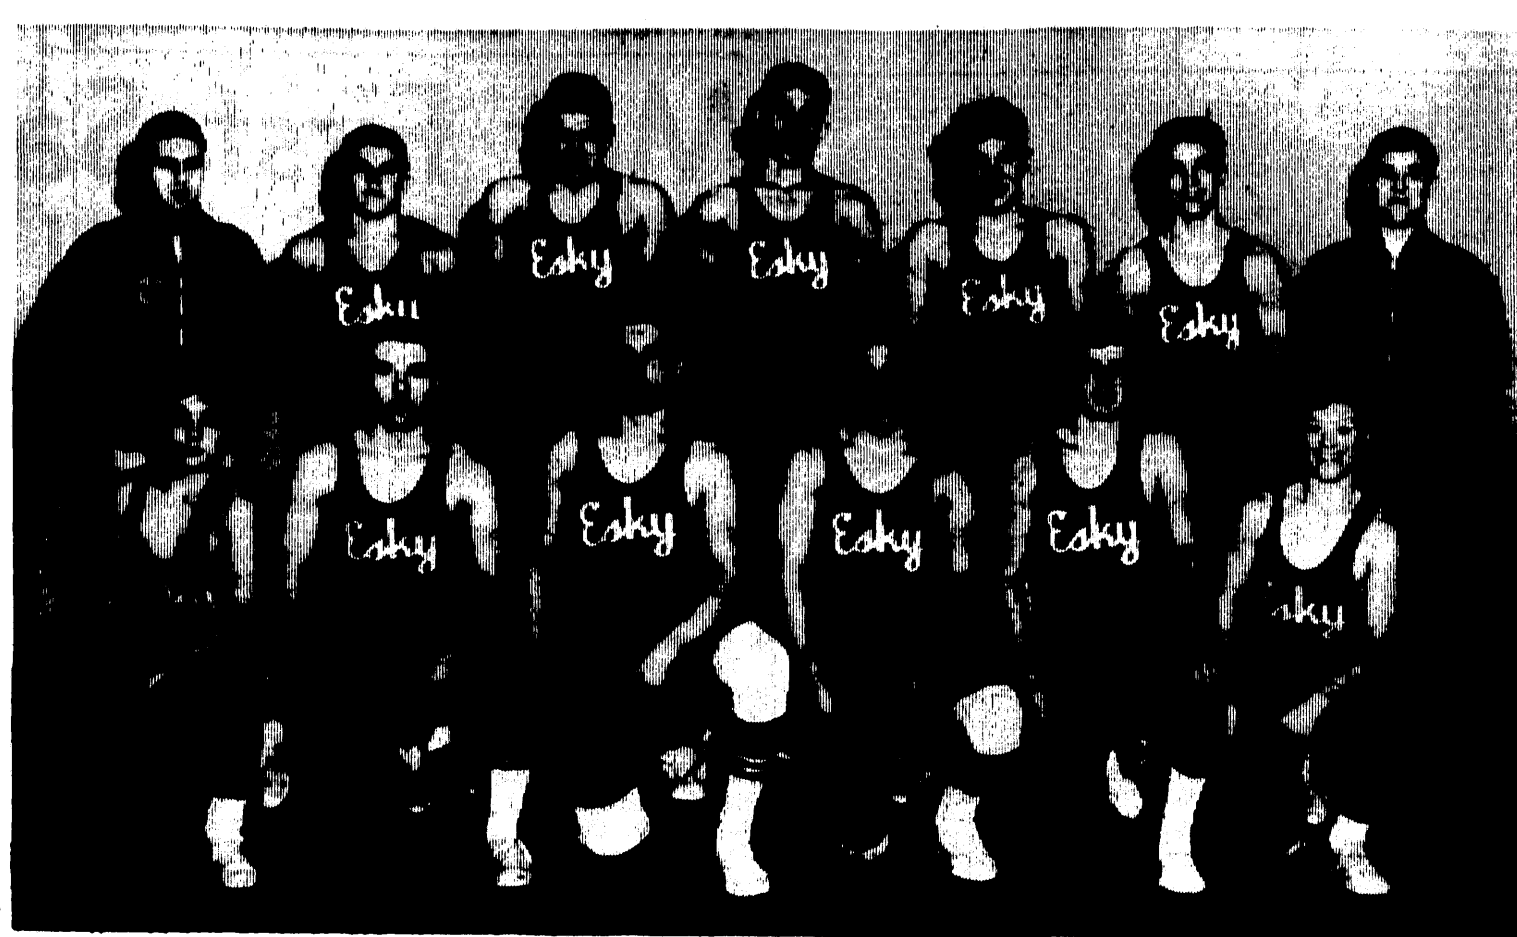

Gladstone won the jayvee game, 63-61.

Eskymos Blast Marquette For Seventh Cage Victory

MARQUETTE—The Escanaba Eskymos hammered Marquette, 89-51, in a non-conference basketball game here Friday night to boost their overall record to 7-3 for the season.

Coach Harold Johnson's casters flashed a slick offense as they topped the 80 point scoring mark for the third straight game and the fifth time this campaign.

Setting the pace was 6 foot 11 inch junior forward Paul Miller who reached 18 points while playing less than three periods.

Miller headed a blistering attack in which the Eskymos scored 56 points in the two middle quarters. It was no wonder, as Johnson's basket-ers hit at a blazing 53 per cent on 35 field goals in 66 shots. They also poured in 19 of 27 attempts from the free throw line.

Jim Boyle, Dave Nyquist and Rick Kutchenberg joined Miller in double figures and seven other players contributed to the scoring total as Johnson emptied his bench. Reserves began seeing action early in the third frame.

The Eskymos had a big bulge in rebounding as well, with Nyquist and Boyle teaming up for 19 of their team's 47 total. Marquette was credited with 30.

The Redmen, who had bowed by an 82-64 margin in an earlier meeting of the teams, had a hot early hand. They scored the first field goal, by Dave Nobert, and played to a 6-6 standoff midway in the first quarter. Nyquist pulled off a three-point play to close the period with a 17-13 Escanaba advantage.

The game remained tight until the closing minutes of the first half when the Eskymos exploded from a 28-23 margin with 13 straight points to take the intermission with a 41-23 bulge.

Kutchenberg scored a field goal and a free throw to ignite the Esky surge and Miller, Boyle and Steve Oman helped the cause with buckets.

Again late in the third period the Eskymos found the range with deadly accuracy. They led 60-33 midway in that quarter, then spurred with 13 straight points to put the Redmen hopelessly behind.

The setback was Marquette's 10th in 11 starts this season. Escanaba also won the jayvee game, 51-39.

Five players saw action for the Broncos and three of them scored in double figures. Sharkey topped the list with 20 points, Pat Sagataw added 18 and Harvey Sagataw 15.

Arne Haavisto took individual scoring honors for Eben with 14 points while Jim Seppi added 13 and Terry Hakkola 10.

Emeralds Crack Negaunee Quint In GLC Action

MANISTIQUE—Coach Rudie Brandstrom's Manistique Emeralds ran their Great Lakes Conference record to 5-2 and their overall mark to 8-2 by turning back the Negaunee Miners, 88-68, here Friday night.

Negaunee scored the first field goal of the night but that was the only time the Miners led. The Emeralds barged into a 24-13 advantage in the first period and held the margin for a 46-35 cushion at halftime.

Manistique blasted any Negaunee hopes for an upset in the third quarter as the Emeralds outscored the visitors by an 18-10 margin. That gave them a big 19 point bulge entering the final period of action and Negaunee was unable to narrow its deficit in the stretch.

A balanced scoring effort paid off for the Emeralds who had five players scoring in double figures. Big Tom Brawley paced his mates with 22 points while Dave Barton came through with 19. Ron Asp 17, Doug Nelson 12 and Jon Cameron 10.

Brawley also gave the Emeralds a big night on the boards, hauling down 15 rebounds. Cameron snatched a dozen as the Emeralds totaled 46 in all. In addition to potting 31 of 72 shots from the field for a 43 per cent clip, the Emeralds tossed in 26 of 38 attempts from the free throw line. Negaunee connected on 14 of 27 charity attempts.

Top scorer for the Miners was Ben Vanni with 17 points. Manistique also won the junior varsity game, 89-69.

Kranepool Gets Clammy Feeling

Met First Sacker Sailed On Ill-Fated Cruise Ship

By MILTON RICHMAN

NEW YORK (UPI) — A cold, clammy feeling comes over Ed Kranepool each time he thinks back to his last vacation.

The 21-year-old Met first baseman wasn't anxious to travel too far from his home here in New York so someone suggested a cruise to the sunny Bahamas.

That sounded fine to Kranepool, particularly since it was chilly, damp and miserable in these parts at the time.

They came up with just the ship for him to go on. The Yarmouth Castle. If you remember the Maine, then you also remember the Yarmouth Castle. Both ships wound up the same way . . . at the bottom.

"I thought it was a little unusual that we never had any lifeboat drill during the trip," recalls Kranepool, who sailed on the ill-fated vessel nine months before it burned and sank.

Forgets In Hurry
Playing for the Mets has taught the young first sacker to be philosophical about most everything although he won't forget his last vacation in a hurry.

"I guess," he laughs, "I had a travel agent who didn't especially like me."

CBS continues denying the New York Yankees are up for sale.

Without taking issue with CBS, however, Henry Ford II, board chairman of the Ford Motor Company, still stands on a statement he made not long ago.

"I received a phone call recently and was asked if we wanted to buy the ball club," he said, referring to the Yankees. "Now what would I do with the ball club?"

Ford refuses to identify the party that called him but insists there actually was such an offer made him. CBS insists they weren't the ones who called.

Do you think maybe the operator got the wrong number?

While you're busy figuring that one out, try this one, too.

Los Angeles sources claim the Angels are all set to take Dick Stuart off the Phillies hands.

Fred Haney, the Angels' G.M. says that's another wrong number.

"I had him once," Haney says of Stuart. "I don't want him again."

Minus much fanfare, the National League has scheduled a meeting in New York on Jan. 28. Top item on the agenda is an official look into that monumental tug-of-war between Atlanta and Milwaukee for possession of the Braves.

No one knows for sure yet where the Braves will play their home games this year. The personal opinion here is that it will be in Atlanta.

Quite A Play
Maury Wills is getting plenty of laughs with this one, which concerns a key game near the end of last season in which the Dodgers led by one run in the ninth and the Giants had me on first and third.

According to Wills, the Dodgers felt the Giants might try to pull a delayed steal so conference was called at it mounded.

"We had it all worked out," says Wills. "When the runner started on his way to second John Roseboro was going to make out like he was thrown to second base, but Ron Perranoski, our pitcher, was told to cut off the throw."

"John threw the ball, instead of catching it, Ron ducked. That was okay because Jim Lefebvre, our second baseman, was right on the spot and caught the ball. Naturally he threw it toward the plate immediately."

"Perranoski wasn't able to cut the ball off."

Kenya Runner Makes Debut

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Kipchoge Keino of Kenya, a late comer among the world's outstanding distance runners, makes his first U.S. appearance tonight in the seventh annual Los Angeles Invitational track meet.

In addition to Keino, other outstanding foreign competitors in the indoor meet at the Sports Arena include Gaston Roelants of Belgium in the two-mile Olympic broad jump champion Lynn Davies of Great Britain and Canada's middle-distance star, Bill Crothers.

Keino, scheduled to run in the mile, was the sensation of late fall racing with a series of performances that included a 3:54.2 mile and world record efforts in the 3,000 and 5,000 meters.

The African runner gets topnotch opposition in the mile from Jim Grelle, veteran U.S. distance runner who has posted sub-four minute miles on 15 occasions. Keino may oppose Roelants in the two-mile.

The pole vault, headed by John Pennel, the 60-yard spring, pitting Charley Green and Darel Newman, and the 60-yard hurdles topped by Rex Cawley, Blaine Lindgren and Earl McCullough, also will vie for the attention of the fans.

Northern Raps Lakeland Quint

MARQUETTE (UPI) — The Wildcats of Northern Michigan University continued their high scoring ways Friday night when they downed Lakeland College Wis., 122-85.

Northern which pushed its per game scoring average to 109 points, is ranked 20th in the United Press International small college ratings.

High scorers for Northern were Gene Summers with 30 followed by Con Yagodzinski, junior forward with 27. Phil Hovey pumped in 24 for the losing Lakeland effort.

The contest left Northern with an 8-2 record while Lakeland was 8-5.

Celts Regain League Lead

By United Press International
The Boston Celtics regain sole possession of first place in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division Friday night by overpowering second-place Cincinnati Royals 113-96.

Don Nelson, Larry Siegf and Bill Russell combined to kill the Royals' hopes. Nelson scored 22 points, Siegf backed him up with 20. Russell controlled the boards with 25 rebounds and added 16 points and six assists.

Oscar Robertson, tagged with four personal fouls in the first half, was high man for the Royals with 24 points followed by Hap Hairston with 20.

In the Western Division, league-leading Los Angeles Lakers lost their third consecutive game to the invading San Francisco Warriors by a score of 120-109.

The Warriors were led by center Nate Thurman's career high of 36 points. Jerry West led the Lakers with 38.

In other NBA games, Detroit Pistons, led by Scott and Eddie Mills with points each, defeated the Philadelphia Hawks 117-108. The Philadelphia Hawks won the New York Knicks, 109-98, to give them their third straight victory.

CUTTING A PATH through deep powder snow, such as found in the Rocky Mountain areas, makes one of the most scenic pictures in the sport of skiing. Anderl Molterer leads the way.

Duke To Add Three Players

By United Press International
While the idle opposition merely gets rusty, the first-ranked Duke Blue Devils plan to come back stronger than ever from their two-week layoff for semester exams.

Duke coach Vic Bubas will add three newly eligible players to the lineup after the semester break. Although sophomores Joe Kennedy, Tim Kolodziej and Tony Boone aren't expected to become starters, they will add depth in case of emergencies.

Kennedy, 6-foot, 6-inches, hit 50 per cent of his shots from the floor for 16.4 points per game and averaged nine rebounds per game as a freshman.

Kolodziej, 6-5, averaged 14 points, and Boone, only 5-9, was sick much of the year but still averaged 6.4 points as a freshman. In addition, Jack Marin, Duke's top All-American candidate, will be back with an average of 20.1 points per game, and Bob Verga will return with an average of 19.8.

The only teams among the top 10 in action this weekend are St. Joseph's, Kansas and Utah. Kansas faces archival Kansas State tonight and Utah, No. 10, is touring Hawaii against a group of unimpressive opponents, and St. Joe's goes against Pennsylvania.

Yankees' Fate May Rest On Mantle's Operation

NEW YORK (UPI) — The 1966 fate of the New York Yankees may be decided before the first baseball is thrown in spring training.

Mickey Mantle, the Yankees' $100,000-a-year, three-time American League most valuable player will be operated on next Tuesday for the removal of a bone chip in his right shoulder, an operation that could lead to his conversion to a first baseman or even to the end of his career.

General manager Ralph Houk was optimistic last night when he announced the operation will take place at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., pointing out that the doctors "anticipate he will be ready for the start of spring training." The Yankees officially start spring training on March 1 and open the American League season on April 12.

Mantle, who was hobbled by a series of leg ailments as well as the shoulder ailment last season, had his worst season. He appeared in only 121 games, batted .256, hit 19 homers and knocked in 46 runs.

The idea of shifting Mantle from the outfield to first base has been discussed in the Yankee front office ever since the shoulder injury became known. Such great outfielders as Stan Musial, Babe Ruth and Joe DiMaggio made the switch late in their careers, although DiMaggio resisted the move.

"There is no pain in my right shoulder," Mantle said when he admitted he had the ailment. "But I can't lift my arm."

The 34-year old Mantle has been sliding downhill fast since winning his third most valuable player in 1962. He played in only 65 games in 1963 and limped his way through the final stages of the season and the World Series in 1964.

Because of his tender legs is afraid to make quick stop the outfield and the slight jar when sliding or running base can sideline him three or four days.

The operation will be Mantle's fourth in his 15-year career. He underwent surgery in 1952 and 1953 to correct ailments suffered when he stepped on a drainage outflow Yankee Stadium during the World Series and was operated on again in 1961 for a ailment.

Rozelle Hopes Pool 'Liberal'

ATLANTA (UPI) — National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle said Friday he hoped NFL clubs would be liberal as possible in establishing a player pool to help the Atlanta Falcons at the 14 winter meeting.

The Falcons, the newest team in the NFL, have already signed all of their college choices who are eligible to play. They will also have a chance to pick from a number of players designated for pool by each team in league.

The Atlanta team will be to purchase as many as players but still to be decided the number of players team will be allowed to "freeze" as untouchable.

Lefty Signs

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Southpaw Chris Short, posted an 18-11 record last season, has signed his contract with the Philadelphia Phillies. Short worked 100 innings last year and has earned run average of 2.8

Tech Cage Team Defeated Again

HOUGHTON (UPI) — St. Norbert of West DePere, Wis., handed Michigan Tech its eighth loss in a row Friday night by downing the hapless Huskies 81-77.

Ron Brault dunked 23 points to lead the game scorers, while Ted Wittig scored 22 for Tech. Frank Sahlin added 18 points for Michigan Tech.

Chips And Splinters

Contributions To Chips Welcomed

Southern Michigan deer have increased in the south third of the state, from a few hundred to about 60,000. Milder winter with ample available food year round has encouraged the deer increase, the Conservation Department cites. Less winter stress produces bigger, healthier deer and fawn production is higher. One hundred southern Michigan does two years and older will produce 200 fawns. Northern Michigan deer average 170. Fawns breed in the south part at six months and 100 does will produce 90 fawns the next spring. This rarely happens in the north, the department says.

Northern Pike, Walleyes Taken On Indian Lake

Ice conditions are generally excellent for fishing in the eastern section of Upper Michigan, the Conservation Department's District 4 office in Newberry reports.

Fishermen are cautioned ice is unsafe in boat channels in the lower St. Mary's River. The south and east part of the district has 4-6 inches of snow over 6-10 inches of blue ice and in the north part there is 6-10 inches of snow on lakes.

Fishing pressure has not been heavy.

Some walleyes were taken in Indian Lake near Manistique and northern pike fishing has been fair. Good walleye catches are reported from Caribou Lake near DeTour. Pike spearing has been slow in bays off Cedarville and Hessel. Good results were reported in Potogannissing Bay and Caribou Lake. Fifty shacks have been set on Munuscong Bay, where ice is 6-10 inches, and a few shacks have been put on Baie de Wassi and 9 Mile Point.

Herring fishing has started on the back bays of the Upper St. Mary's and is expected to improve.

Some bluegills are being taken on wigglers and grubs on South Manistique Lake in Mackinac County.

Hulbert Lake in Chippewa County continues to produce good yellow perch fishing at depths of 30 to 65 feet. Perch eyes are used for bait. Results have been slow in Les Chauxeaux waters near Cedarville. Wiggles are the preferred bait.
